Useful information:

Top questions to ask the company during an interview (from Monster.com)

Interview questions to ask about the company

- What exactly does this company value the most, and how do you think my work for you will further these values?
- Can you give me some examples of the most and least desirable aspects of the company's culture?
- How does this company define and measure success?

Interview questions to ask about the job

- What kinds of processes are in place to help me work collaboratively?
- What's the most important thing I can accomplish in the first 60 days?

Interview questions to ask the interviewer

- How long have you been with the company?
- What do you enjoy most about working here?
- What makes you good at your job?

Bonus interview questions to ask

- How long is the average tenure of an employee?

- Where would the company like to be in five years?
- Am I going to be a mentor or will I be mentored?
- How will you judge my success? What will have happened six months from now that will demonstrate that I have met your expectations?
- This job sounds like something I'd really like to do—is there a fit here?
- What is the next step in the hiring process?

Use these questions as prototypes for questions based on the particulars of the position you are interviewing for. Make them your own and polish them until their shine reflects on you.
