Shouts, cheers, mellow tones — enthusiasm is the word. From September until June, the weeks move swiftly with the business and activity of school.

From the starting bell on Monday morning through the last class on Friday afternoon, the bustle of preparing for the game, cheering on the team, working for the victory, the hours move quickly.

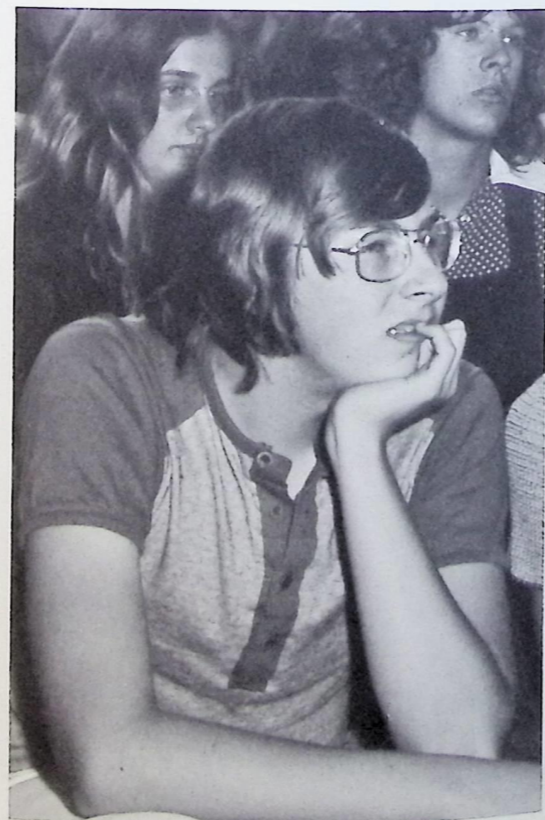

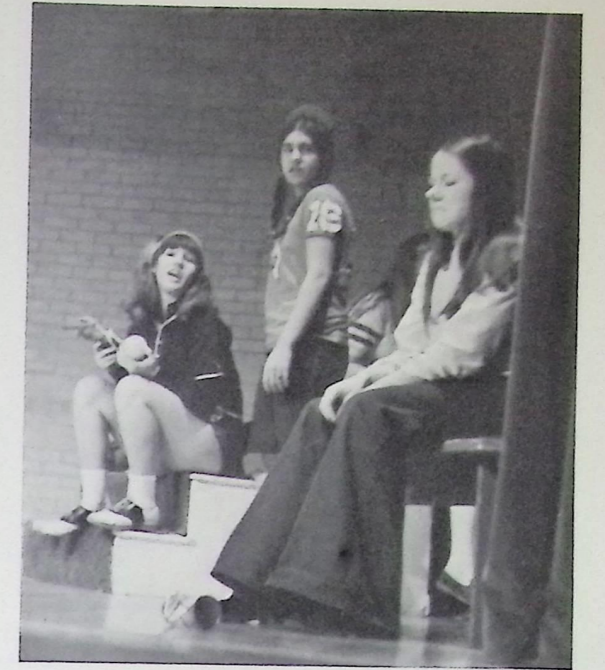

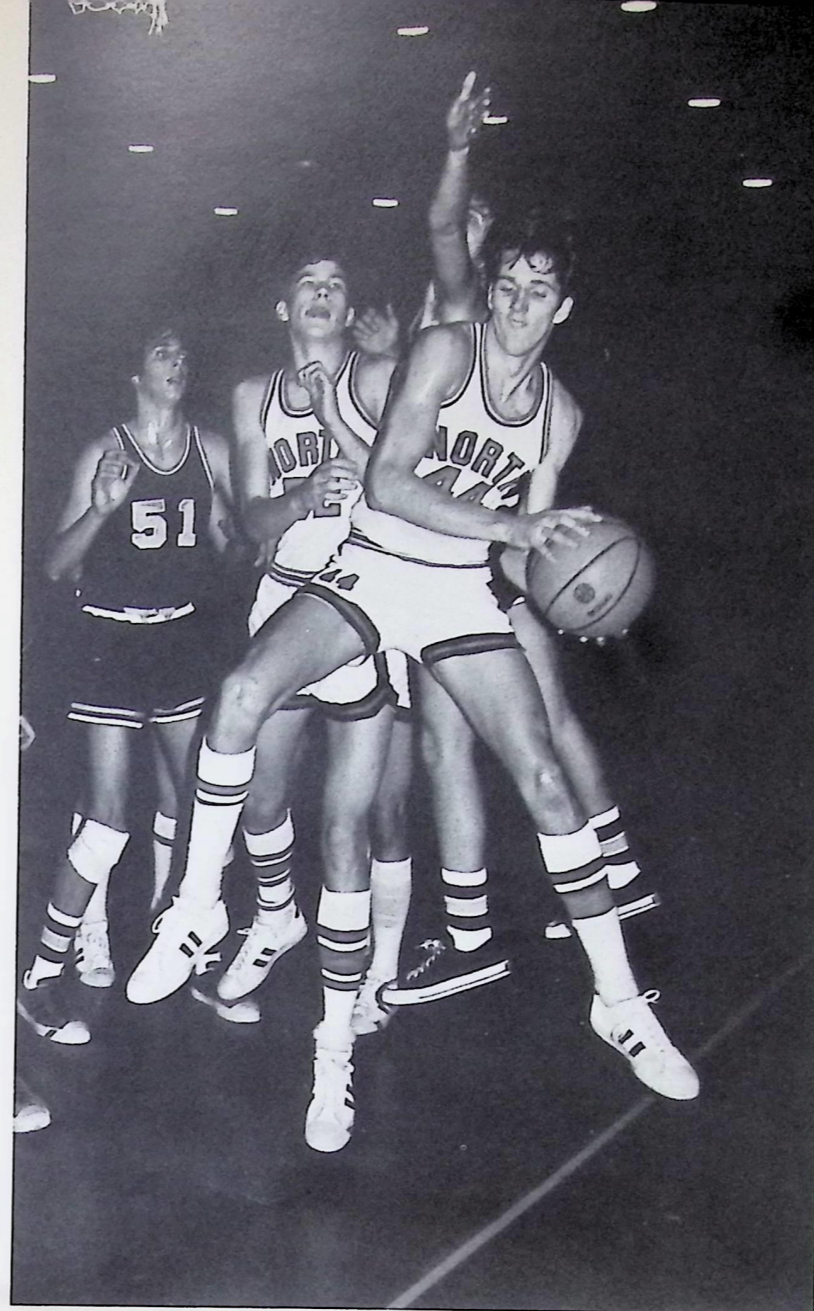

Within the walls of North are many students who are seeking themselves. They are not just numbers tucked away in files but grouped together as a mass representing the values of the school. Sometimes it is necessary to come out from the group and show that you are unique — not a carbon copy. At times it is important to fight for what you believe in and be what you want to be.

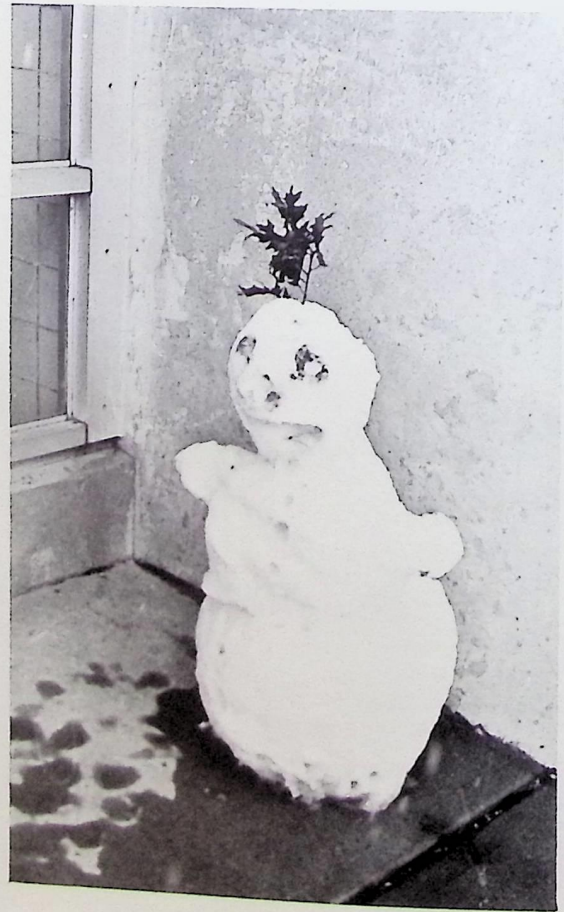

Things are viewed differently by different people in different situations. Some are in looking out; some are out looking in.

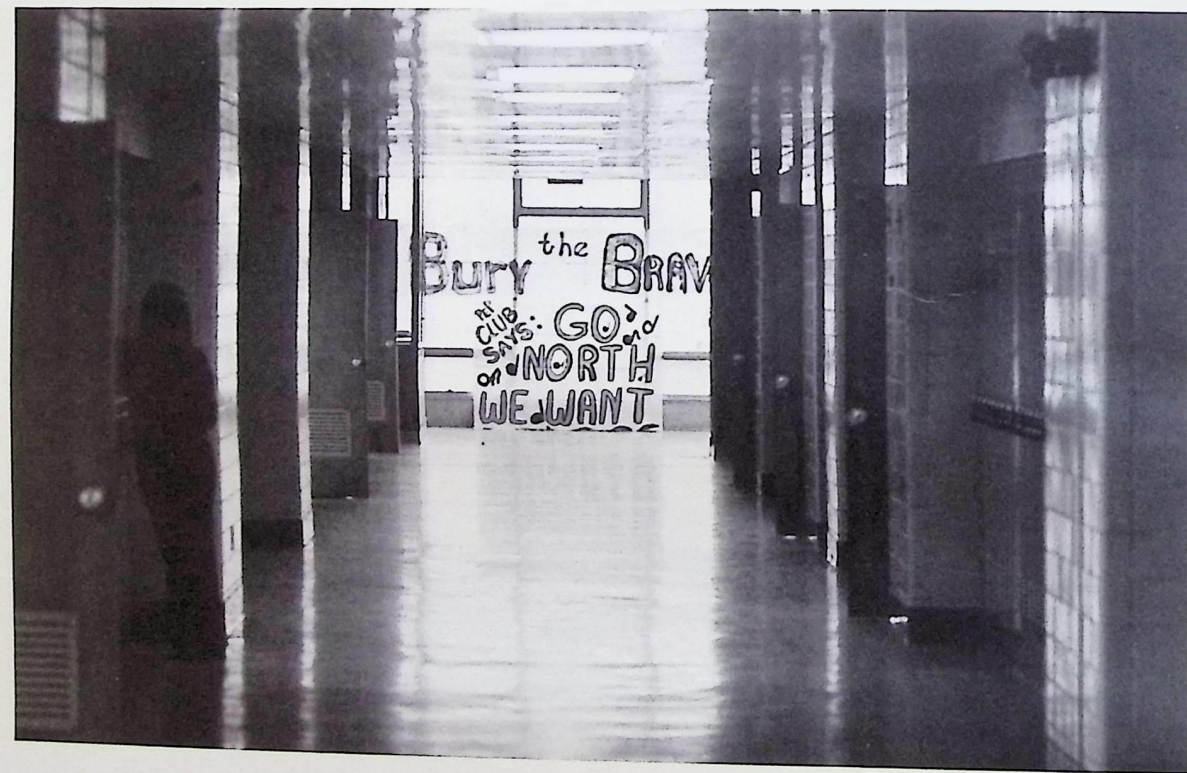

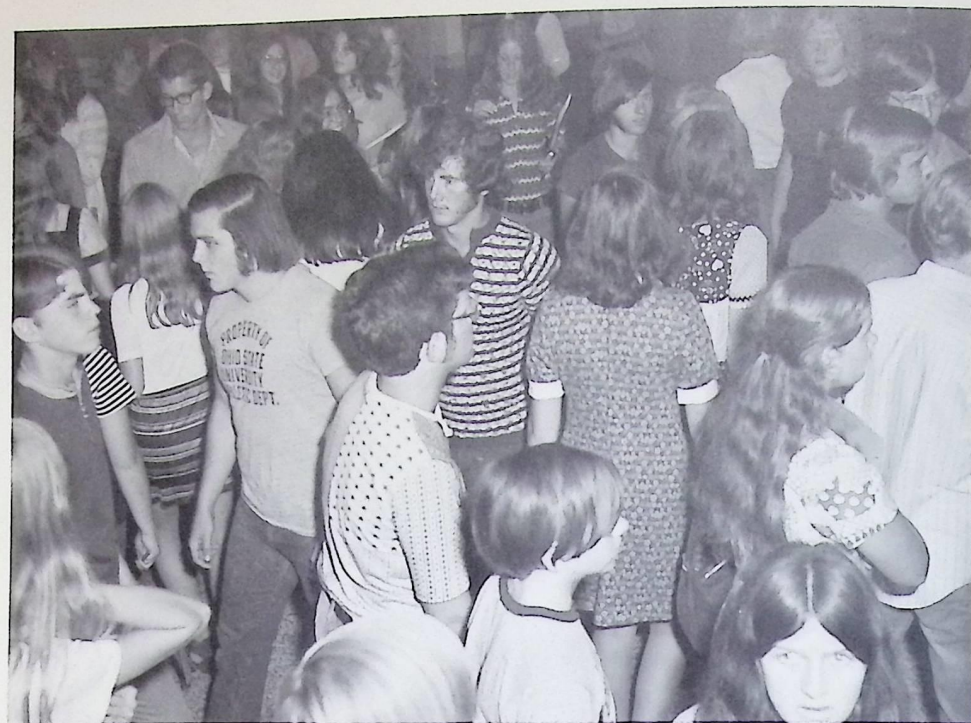

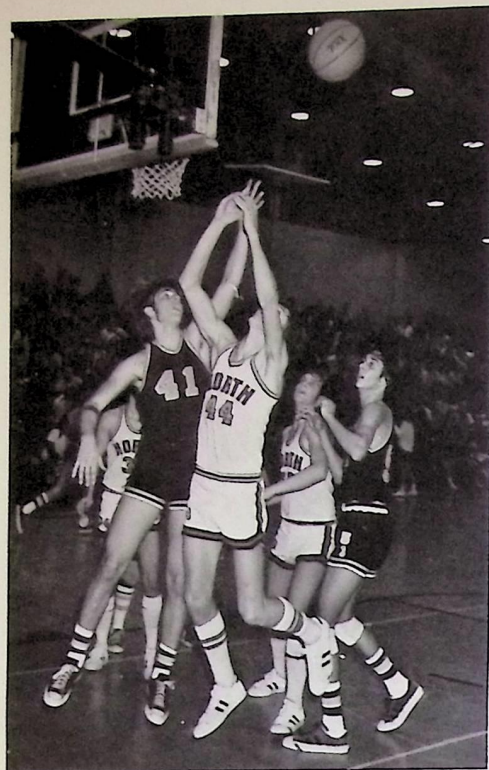

Many people are striving to get ahead but it takes teamwork. Though individualism is stressed greatly today people must depend on others for achievements and simple companionship.

Within confusion and excitement there is yet an emptiness that wanders in the mist of the mind. In that emptiness roots the thoughts born of mankind.

NORTH 1972-1973

New additions to our school provide greater opportunities for us to learn. A new student lounge area, a girls' gym, wrestling room, and student learning center have expounded over school to make our days richer and our education more relevant.

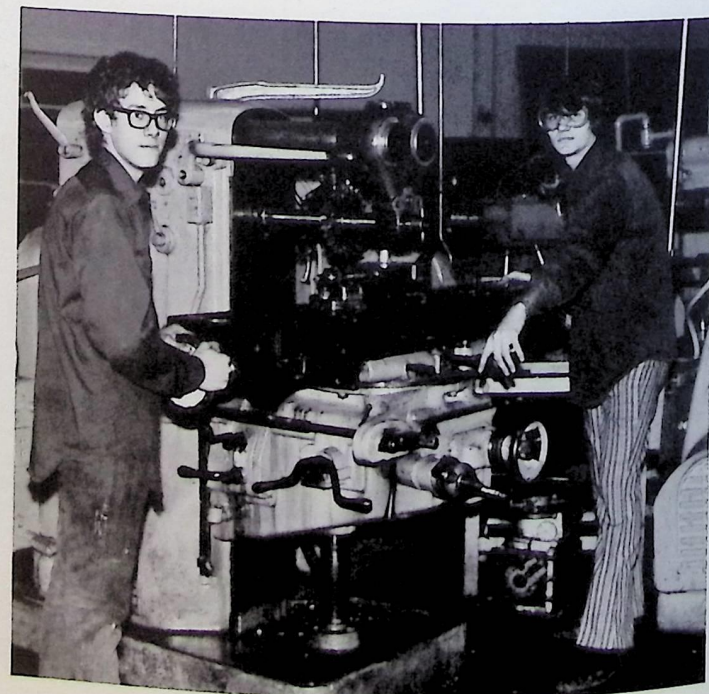

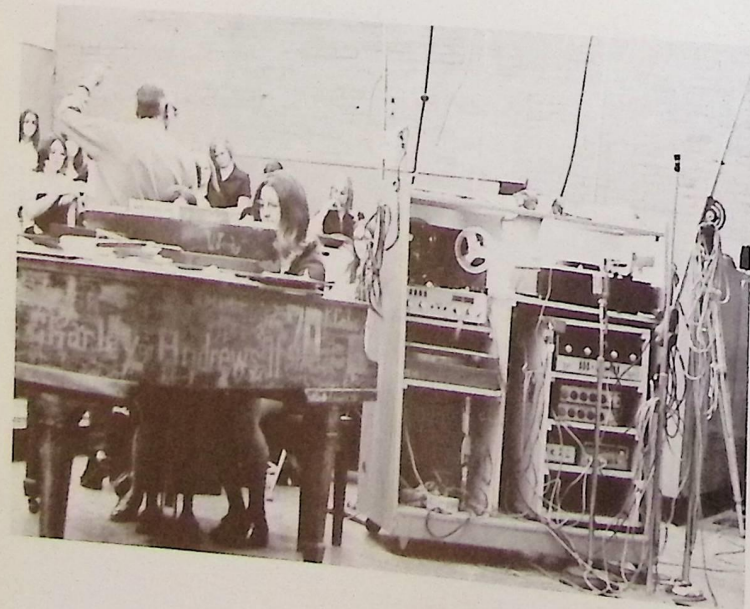

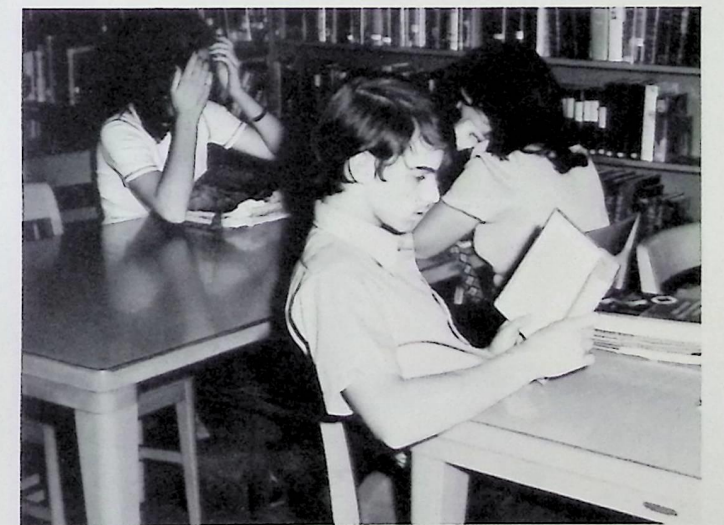

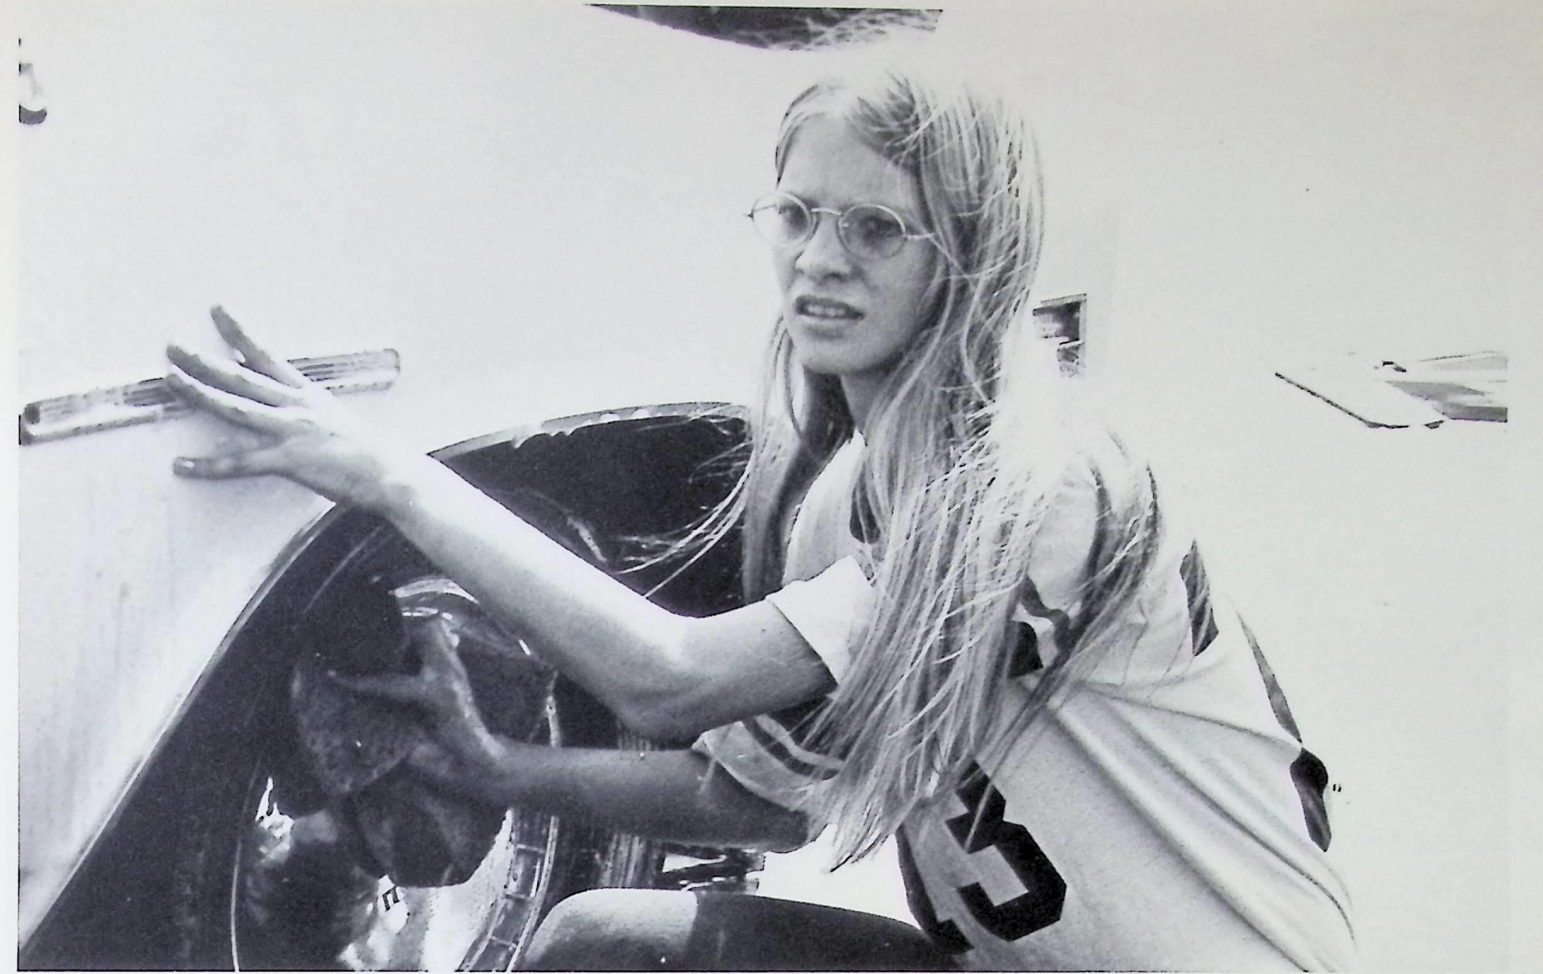

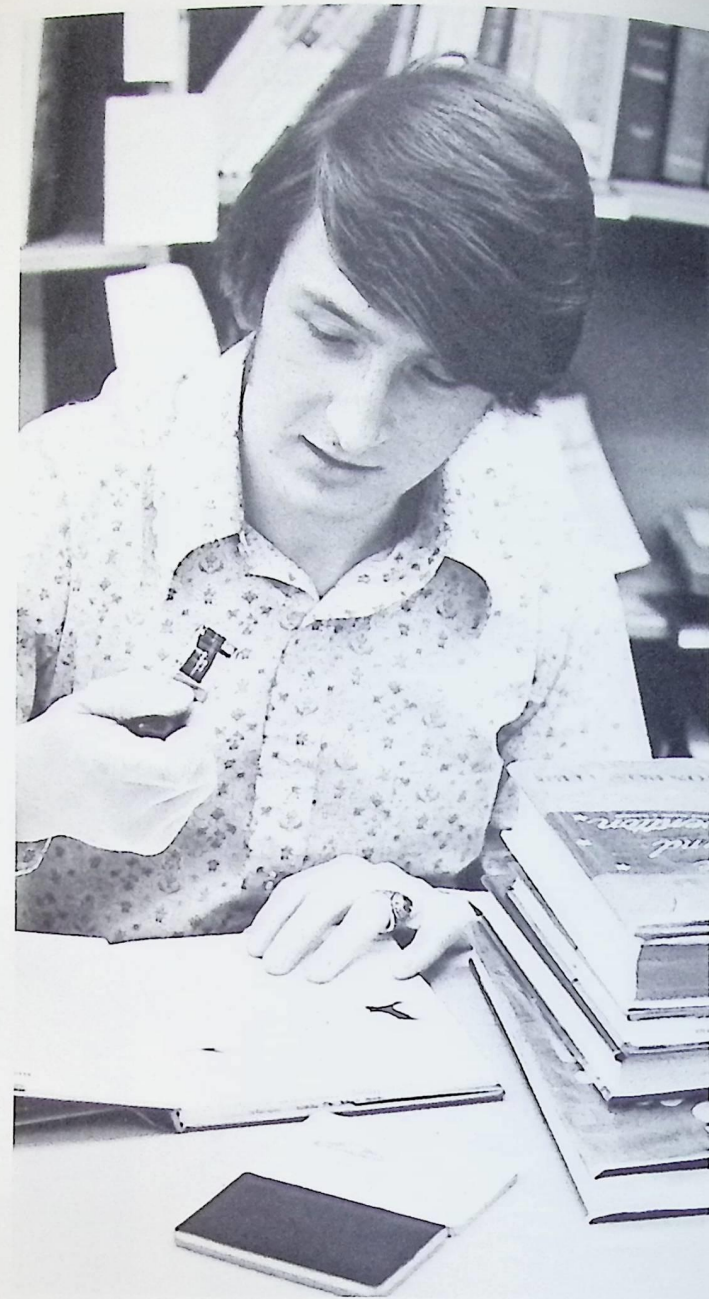

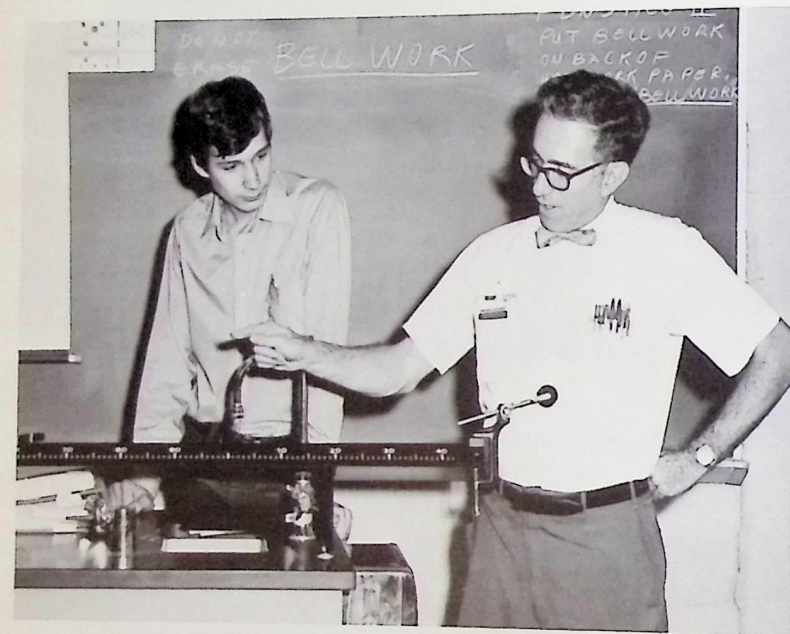

Reaching out with enthusiasm for that special victory, the satisfaction of being with people we like, the ever-present need of doing new and exciting things comprises our world from the moment we report to school to the close of the final activity of each day.

In a group, with a friend, or by oneself, creativity exists everywhere. An original idea combined with concentration, individuality, curiosity, accuracy, and selection produces a new concept. Some frustration exists, but fun, relaxation, and a bit of humor always make disappointments bearable. The finished product is an accomplishment, looked upon with pride.

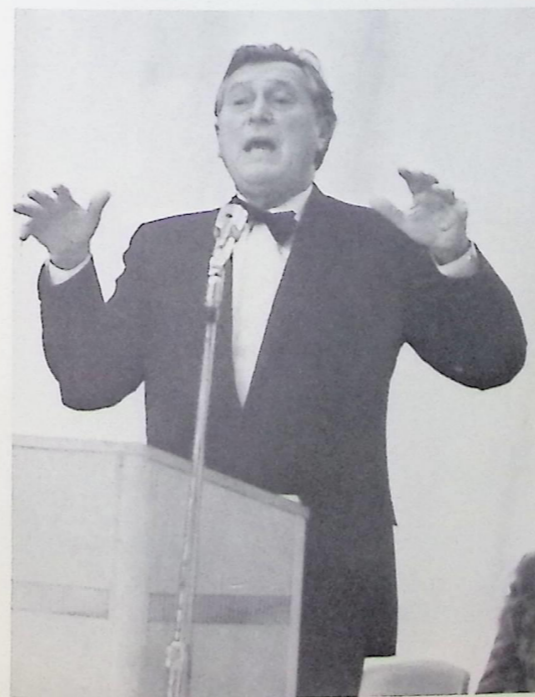

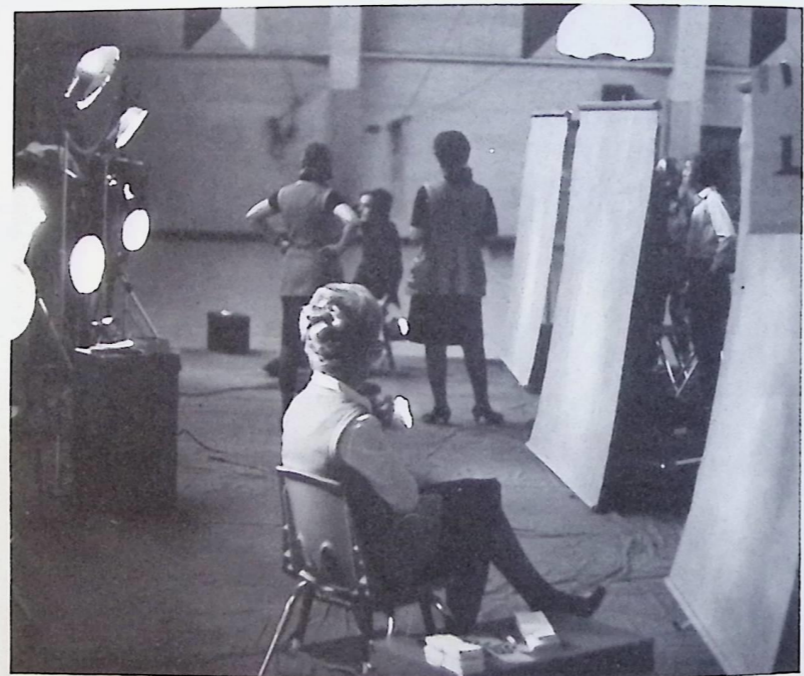

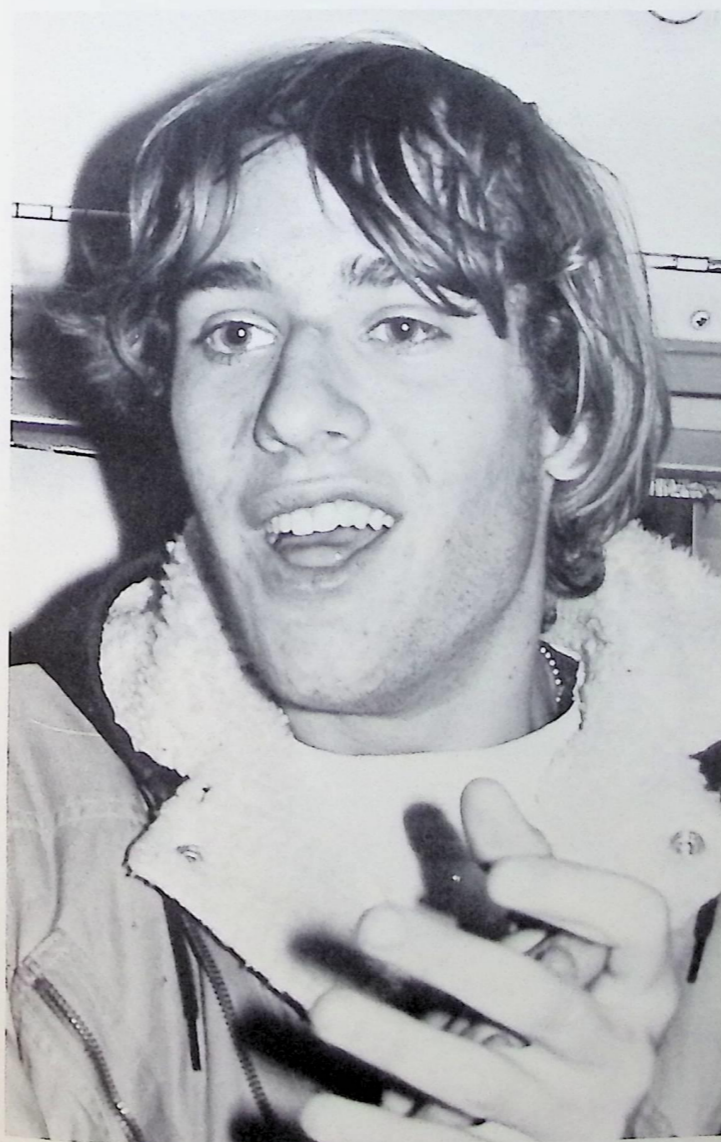

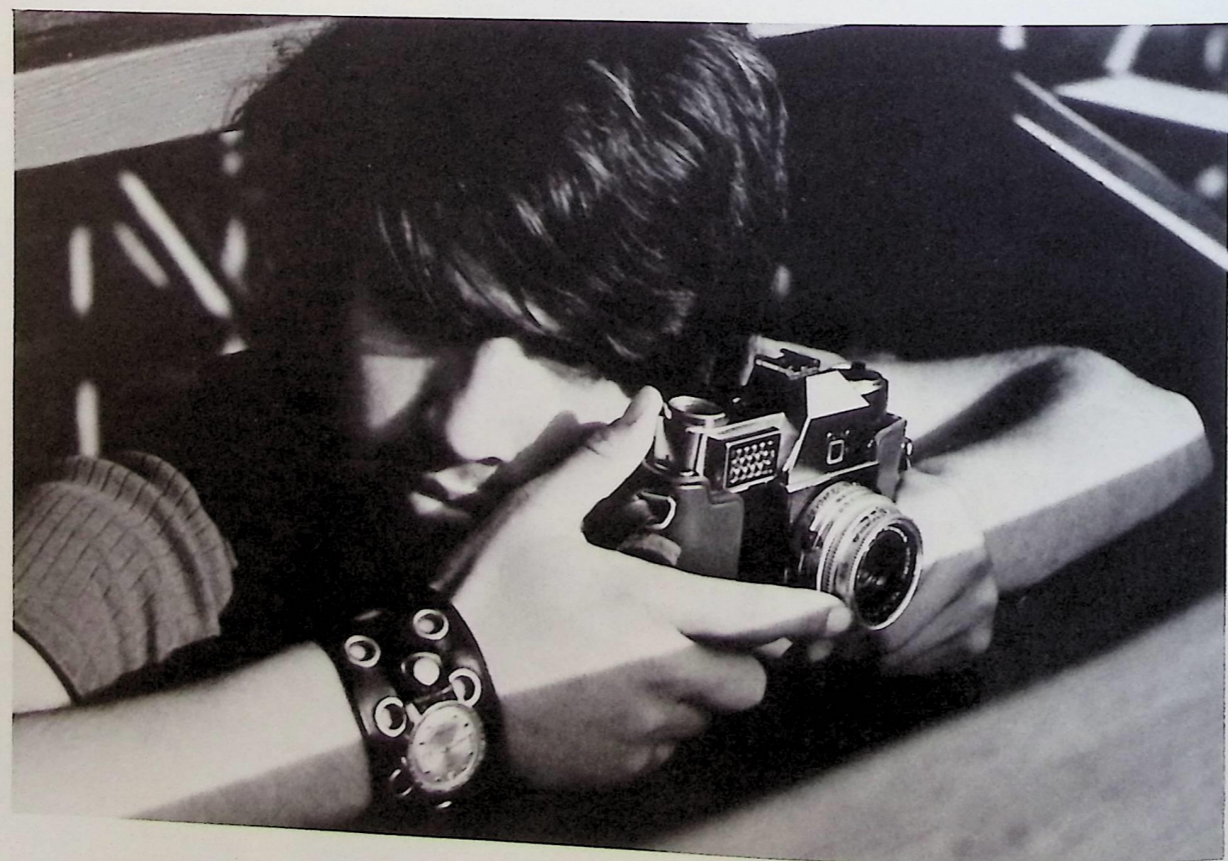

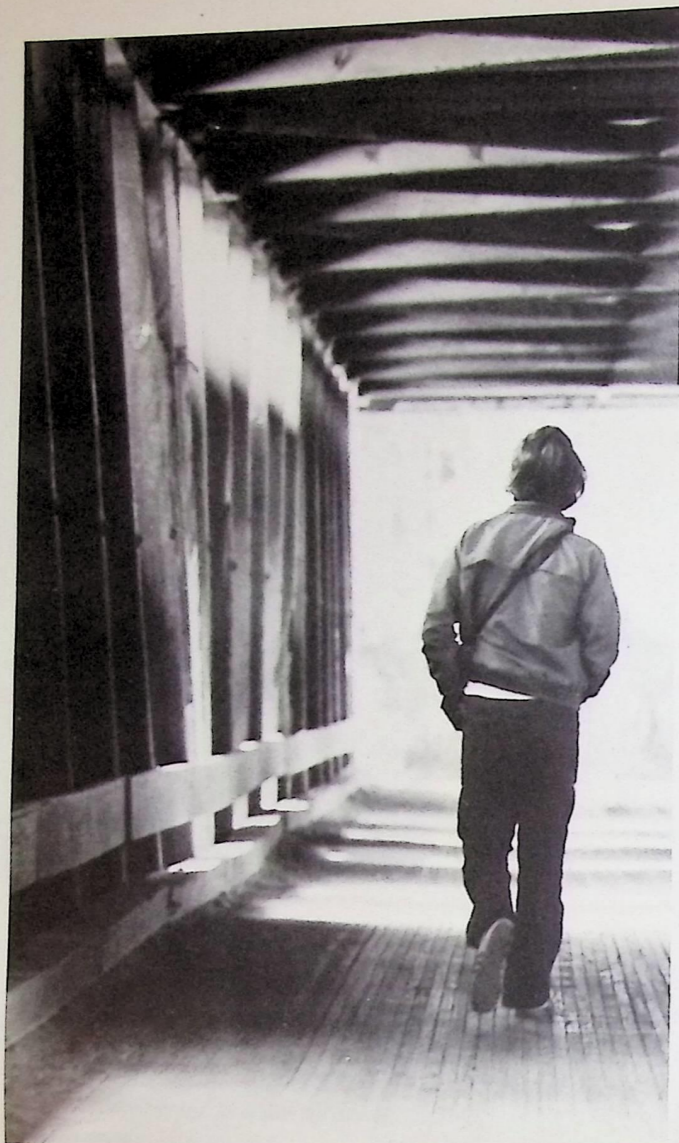

Unconsciously everyone learns. Through group participation or individual efforts one can learn a new idea, no matter how trivial. Whether reading, listening, talking, experimenting or practicing, learning occurs. Enthusiasm, though sometimes impossible, enhances the learning process.

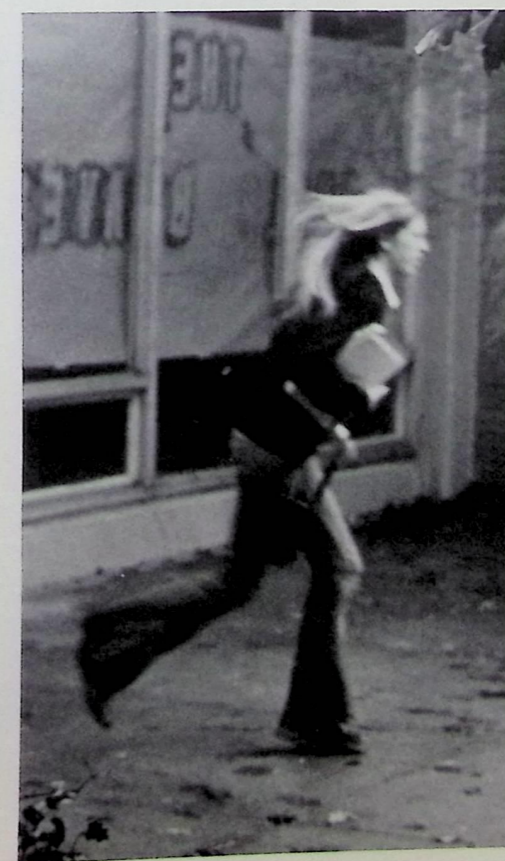

An ever-varying substance is drawn together by many different forces. Honor, concern, recognition, pride, hilarity, and achievement are just a few of the many reasons for the assembling of a mass . . . but in the midst of this pomp, grandeur, spirit, and the tension of competition, a moment of solitude.

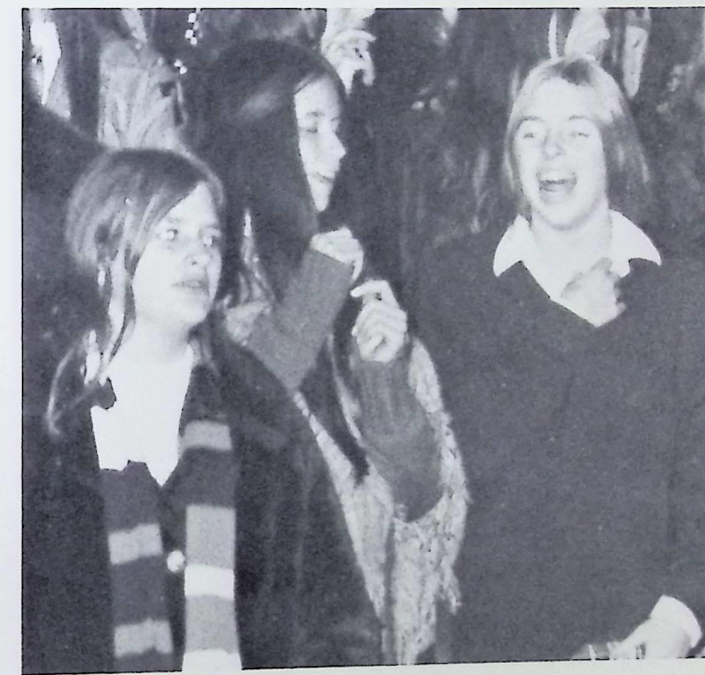

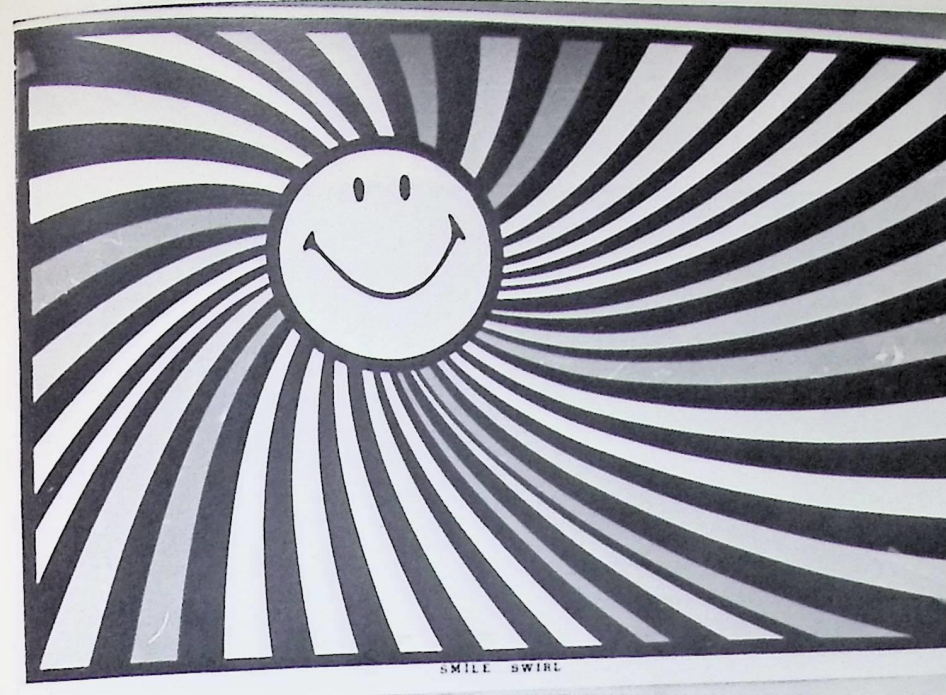

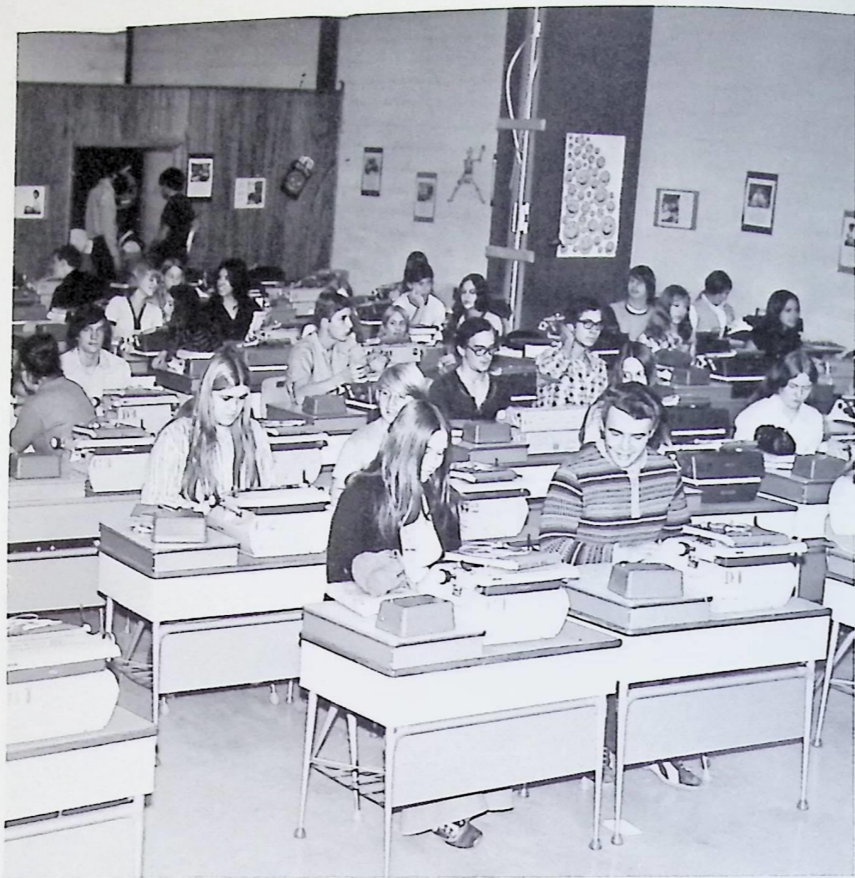

All the faces in the crowd . . .
Brought together to celebrate our unity,
Our oneness.
Yet, individuality is searching, questioning, wondering.
What is my purpose, my direction, and . . .
What is my place in this multitude?
Is it best to merge with those around or should I retreat, and break my own trail . . .

The most appreciated and inexpensive gift to give is a smile. Priceless all-reflecting approval, love, surprise, and hope. Yet why be stingy? Nothing so fine as to smile and be smiled upon ... To build bridges to new relationships, alter existing ones, and outgrow unfulfilling ones. Smile with ... because of ... for ... someone.

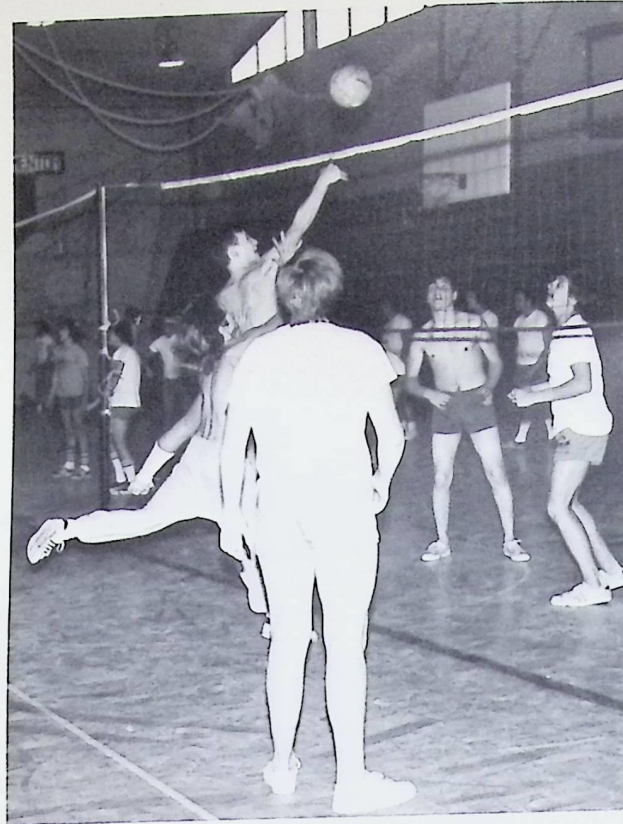

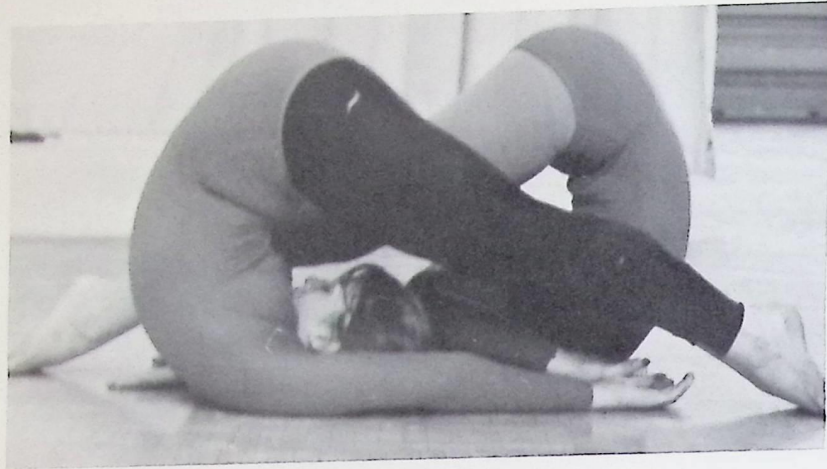

Harmony presents itself by working together, and being together. Rhythm in work and spirit sets the pace for bringing all labors to productive completion.

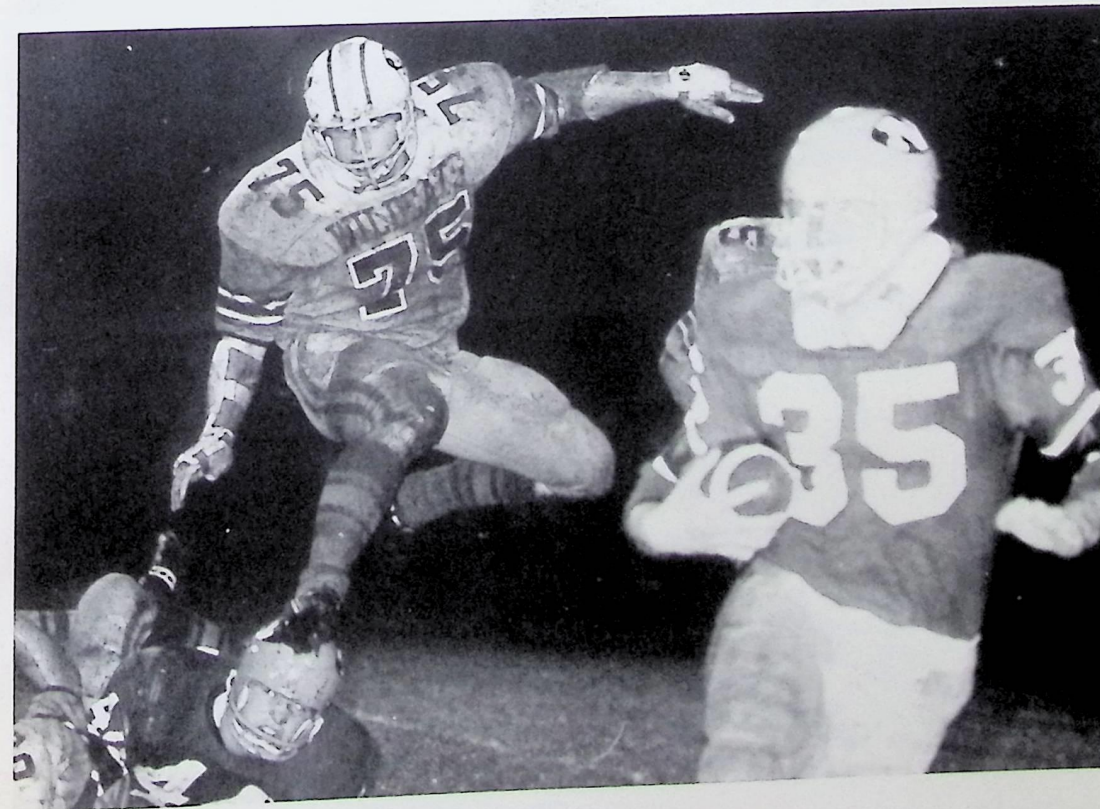

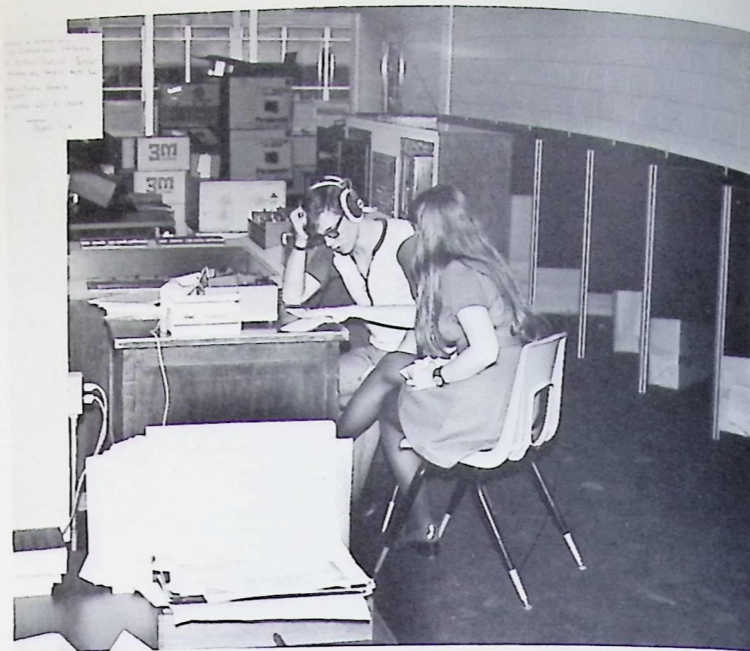

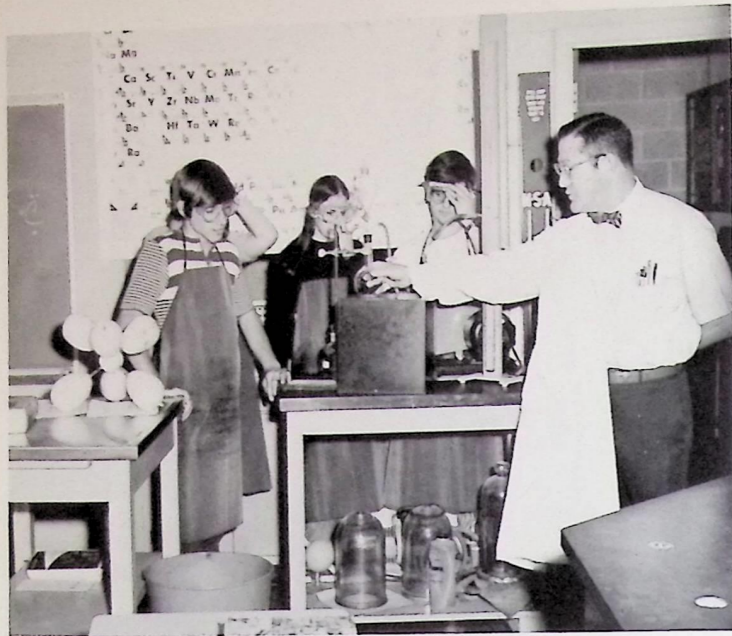

Unity of purpose strengthens the individual, and he reciprocates by giving of his talents and his soul. Togetherness and communication bring him to raise his head and find value in himself.

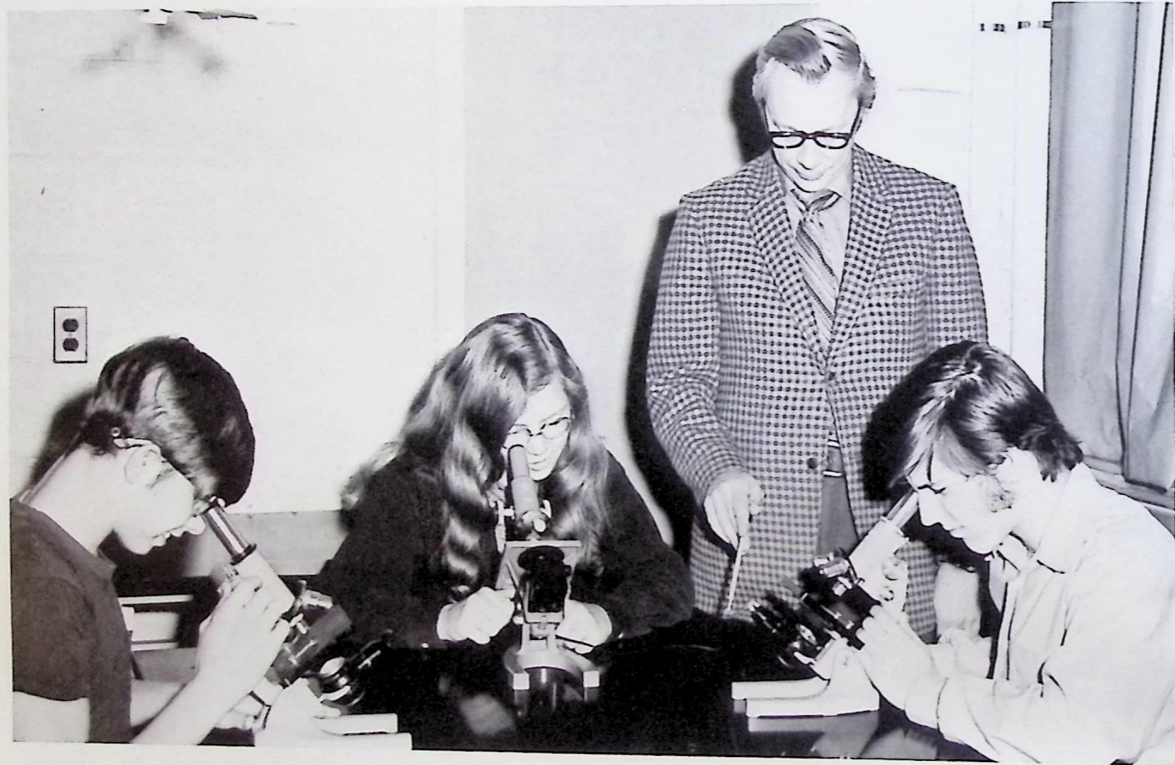

An integral part of school life is the physical output. Release of pent up emotions is channeled into varied activities depending on the individual. Score a point, raise a shout, feel the pull of your muscles and the ache in your throat, you are part of all you do...

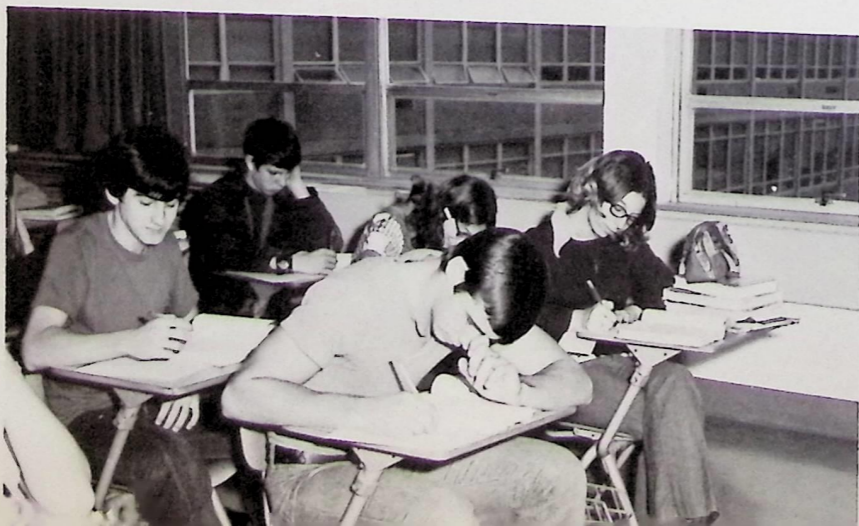

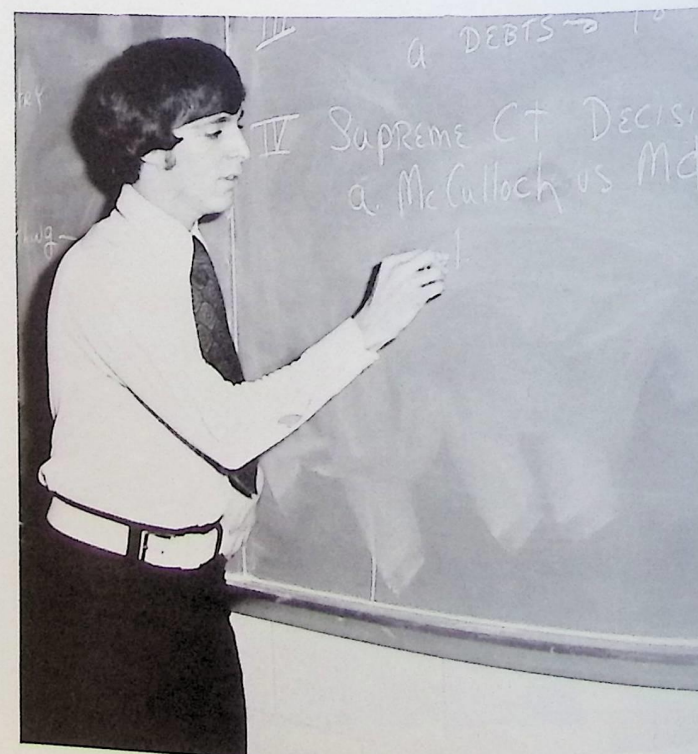

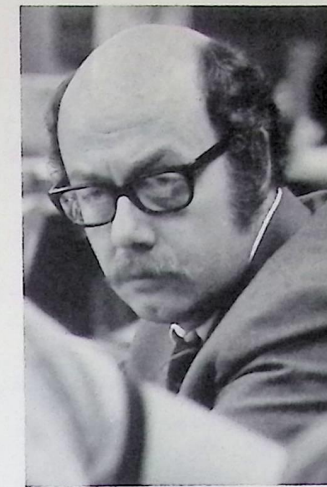

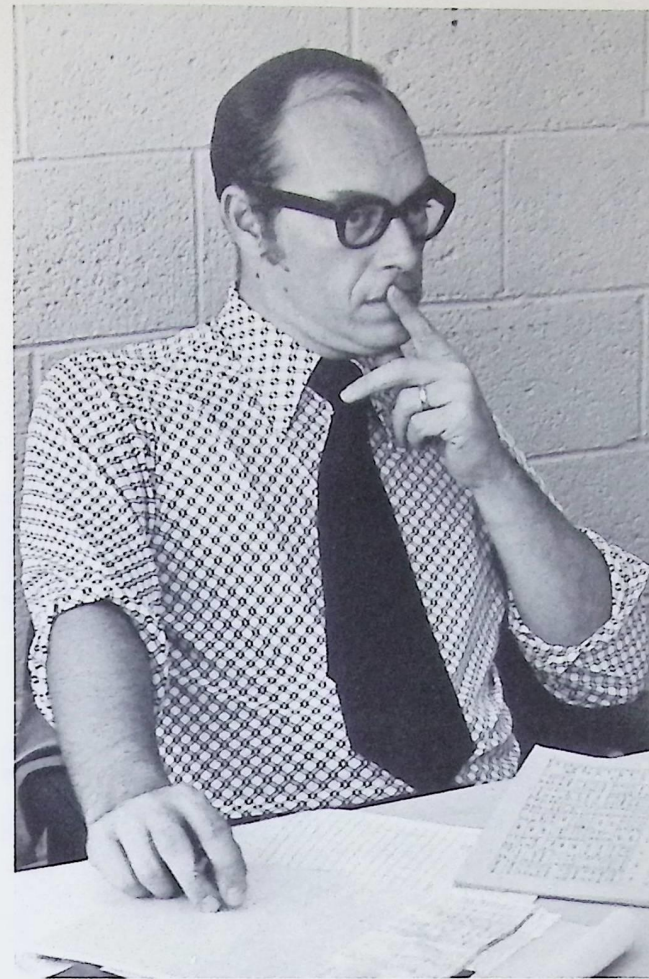

Each day is a mill run of ideas, inspiration to fulfillment. In our world each separate field demands competence and skill. The opportunities are here. Self-improvement and discipline go hand in hand with every single endeavor.

Learning begins with interest, participation, and serious application. In each field of study, qualified instructors offer their knowledge and experience. Textbooks and laboratories provide fundamental framework, which the student embellishes with his own willingness to expand.

Little does the average student realize that his teachers are human, too. If he would look into it he would be surprised to learn how much the student body and faculty actually have in common. They, too, have to put up with soggy cornflakes for breakfast, wear holes in their socks, and crawl in on Monday mornings after a long (!) weekend.

Teachers are individuals, yet each pursues interests and hobbies of their own. Their goal is to share the knowledge they have gained through personal studies and experiences, failures, and successes.

NORTH WINS G.C.C.

NORTH WINS G.C.C. TITLE

After ten years of discouragement and second place finishes, the Rangers have risen to capture sole possession of the Greater Cleveland Conference title. Combining a powerhouse offense with the best defensive unit in the state, North posted a 9-1 overall record.

The devotion and dedication of the coaching staff and team was reflected in the perseverance and diligence of our marching band and the fountain of spirit of the student body.

Good coaches and a great team made-up a successful football season this year. With concentration and cooperation the team worked themselves to many running and passing wins. Their good sportsmanship turned August's dreams into November's reality ... the 1972 GCC Champions.

Superior . . .

Courageous . . . Dynamic . . . Explosive!

In their quiet determined way North sought for the recognition it deserved. The agony, pain, and sacrifices were all worthwhile. We came out on top!

The tension of a close game, or the sound and spirit of a pep assembly is always the concern of the cheerleader, a hardworking, devoted teenager who contributes time and energy to practice sessions, precision cheers, and away games.

The excitement of "Golden Victories," this year's Homecoming theme, began with seventeen candidates. The week of the game ten were eliminated leaving seven to participate in the Homecoming presentation at the Pep Assembly, procession of cars around the track, the walk across the field to the music of "Close to You" and the suspense until the 1972 Homecoming Queen was announced. The noise of the Friday night's crowd shifted to the sounds of Damnation of Adam Blessing who played for Saturday night's Dance, ending the Homecoming festivities.

For seven days Camp Chibiabos in Doylestown was invaded by ninety-six marchers. During the few hours not spent in endless drills on the field, comments such as "Stella, that's good bug juice", "Klimek and Kraber, only your hairdresser knows," "Mr. Zack, wet Pants?!?!? ... ", and "Mr. Skin was tops" could be heard echoing from the infamous hill. Moments never to be forgotten — "The Rock", "P.D.A.", Wednesday night's full moon. The results showed — NORTH across the field, dance steps, geometric figures including circles, and in his honor REIK across the field, thanks to the seniors and Mr. Lipinsky. Size, formations, glitter, improvement — a change from the north high marching band to "THE NORTH HIGH MARCHING BAND!"

A group of hard working, attractive, and extremely talented girls, advised by Miss Reed, practice all summer before their marching debut at the first game. The majorettes, in their sparkling apparel, captivate the crowds. Not only are they known for single and double baton, but they have won national awards for their elaborate fire routines.

As the game is played the excitement and energy is increased. Our 1973 roundballers proved this many times by keeping the fans in constant suspense with their many one point victories and last second losses.

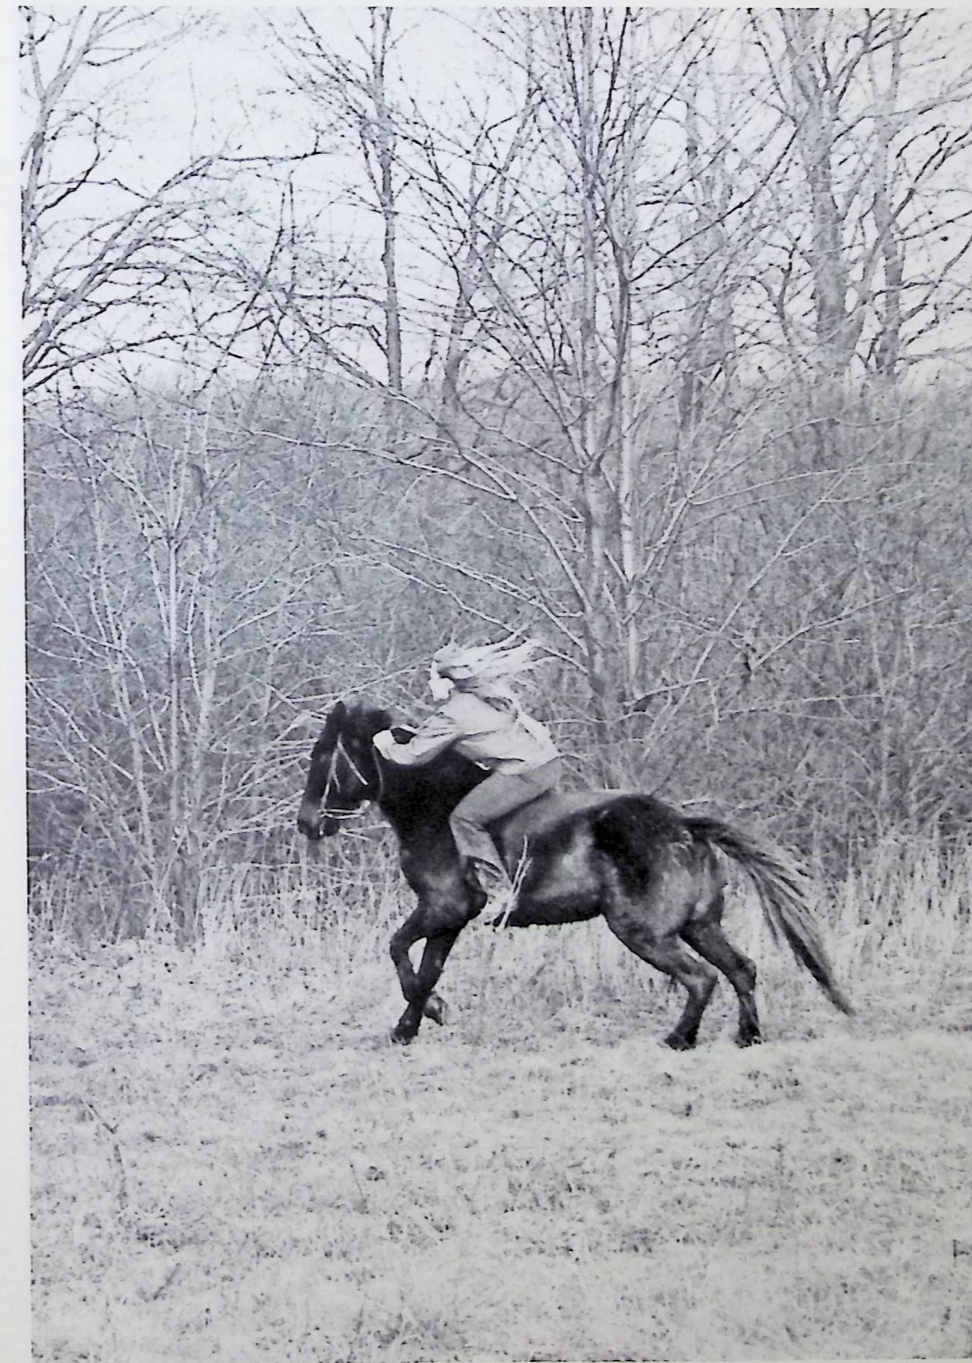

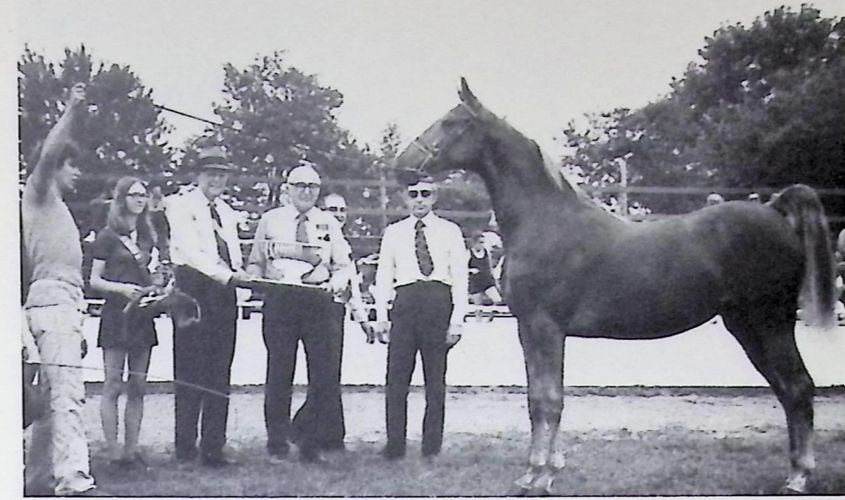

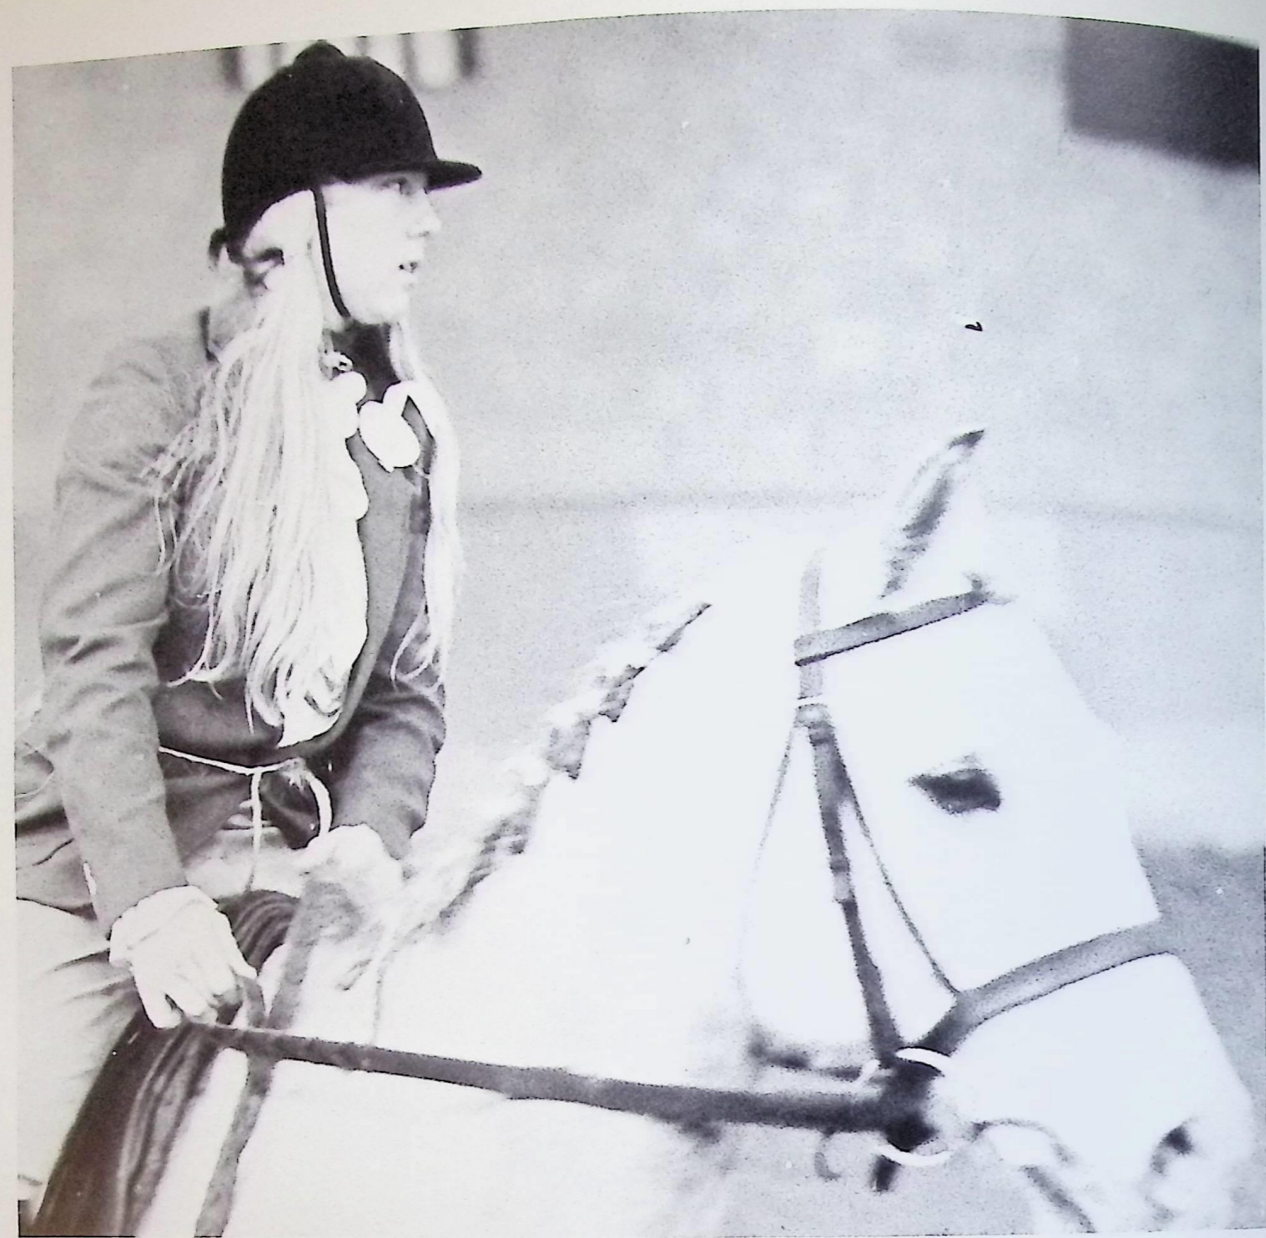

With a dogged determination to do things right, confidence overshadows any faint chance of failure. Youth is characterized by strength, optimism, and the sweet innocence it nurtures.

Somehow, somewhere within, we must keep alive this sense of innocence through today's indifference and prejudice; for surely it will develop into wisdom for tomorrow.

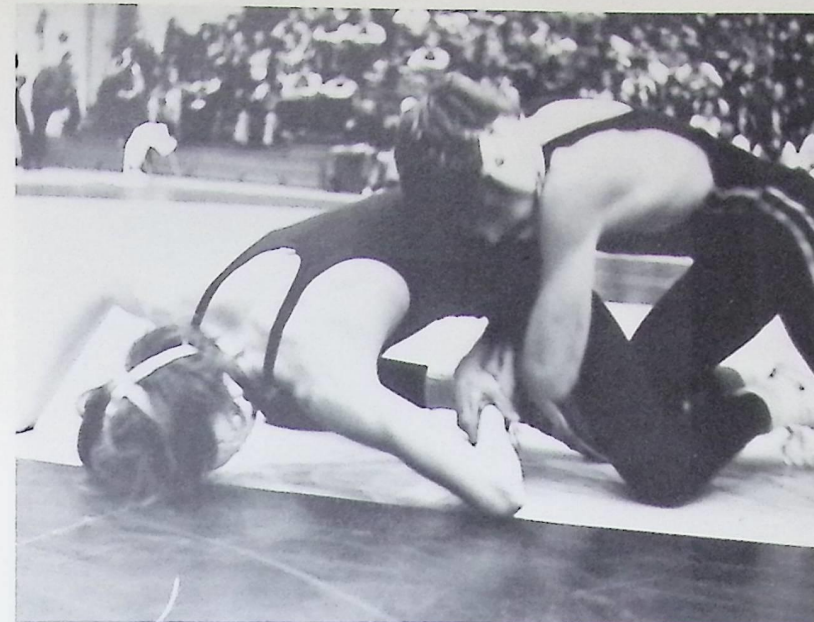

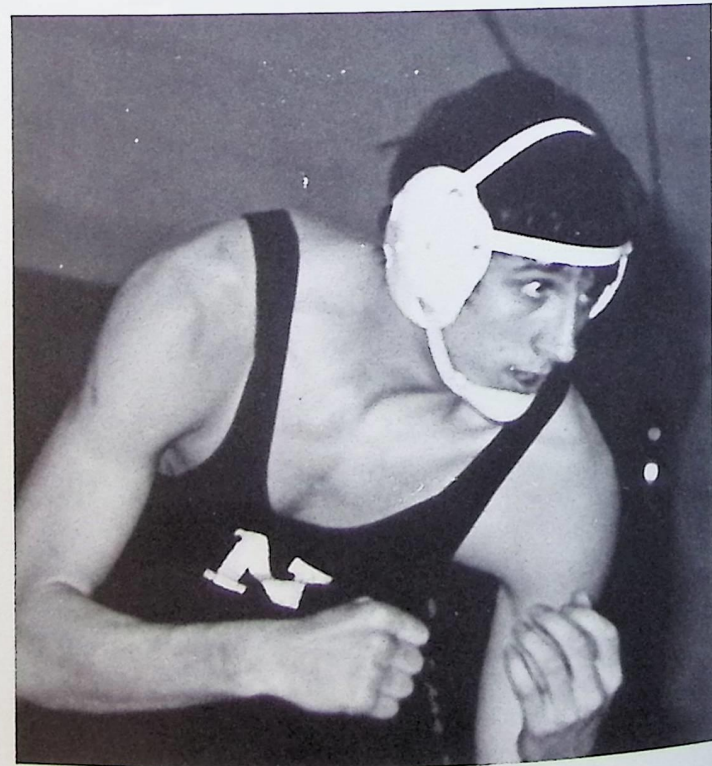

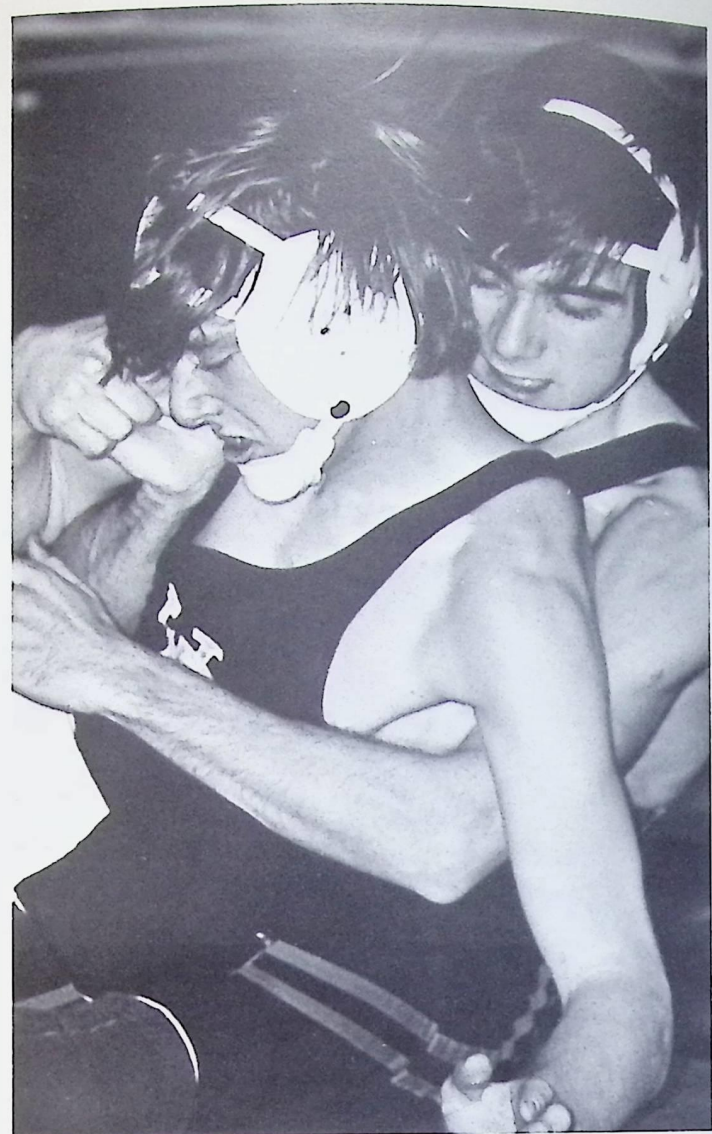

The time comes when you don't want to be with friends and yet being alone isn't right either. For some people animals are the answer because they can reach you when people cannot. This is what makes the Riding Club unique at North. The determination of a Horse Show, the freedom of galloping across the earth, or just splashing around in the mud . . . There will always be a special bond between Man and Nature.

Wrestling is the sport in which the individual is pitted against the opposition alone. Frustration, accomplishment and patience are challenges these Rangers readily accept in contributing to the total team effort. No self-satisfaction is greater than the pride and glory of victory for North.

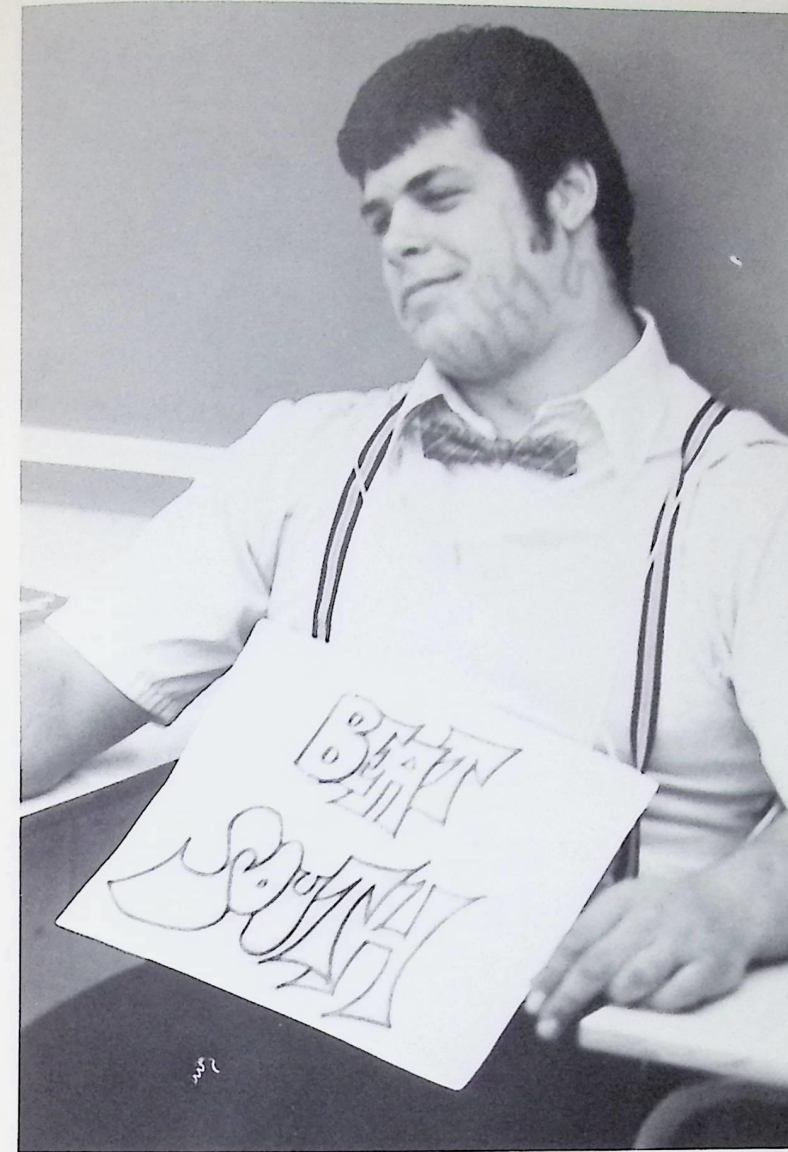

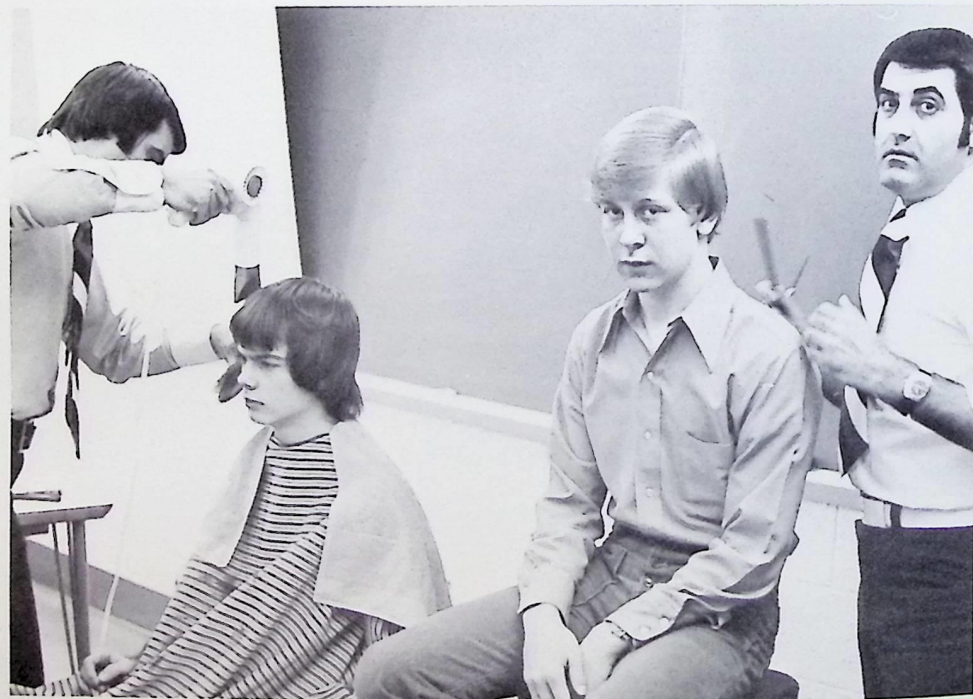

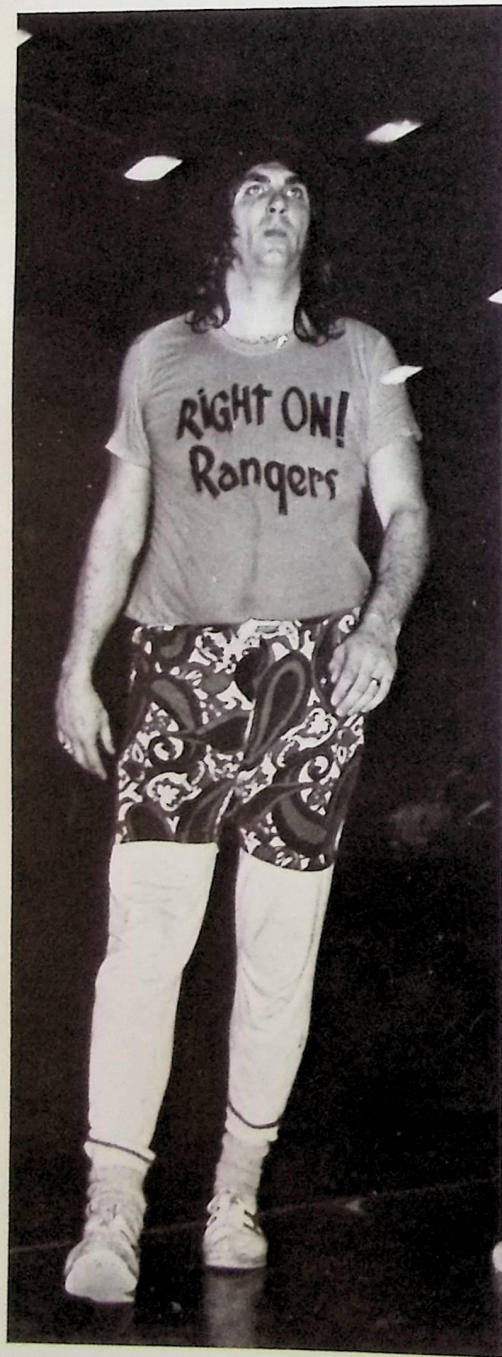

The powerful muscles, the painful determination, the swift movements — This is what makes a Wrestling Team. No other sport offers such rewarding competition. At North wrestling is more than a sport. It is an organization striving for perfection.

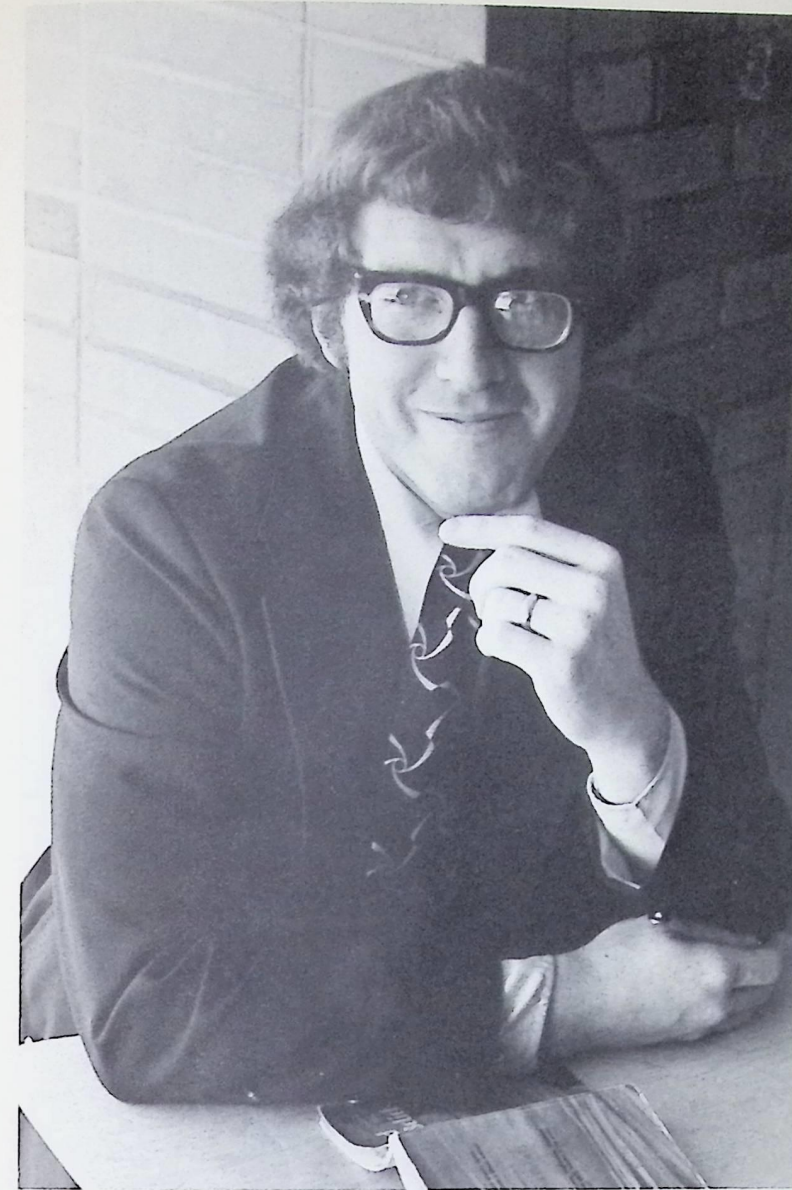

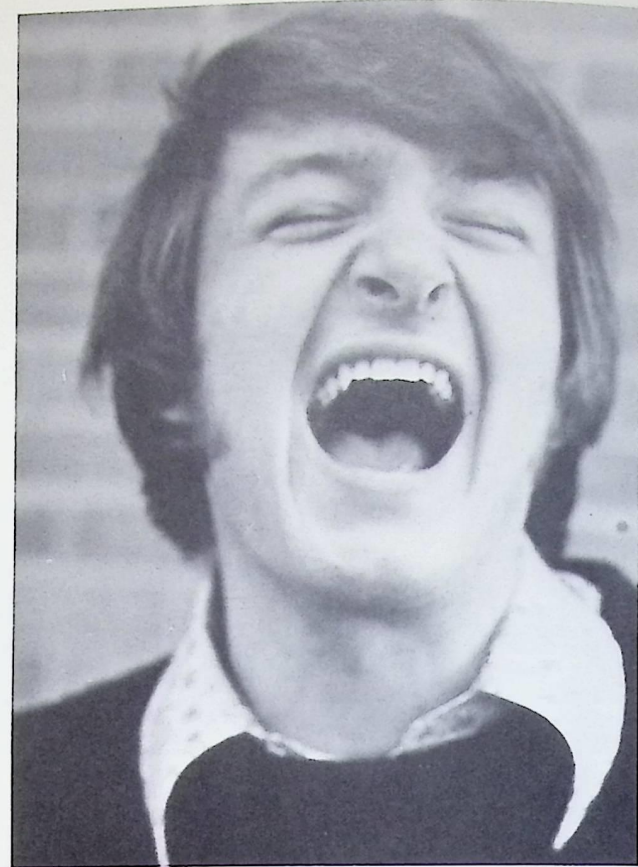

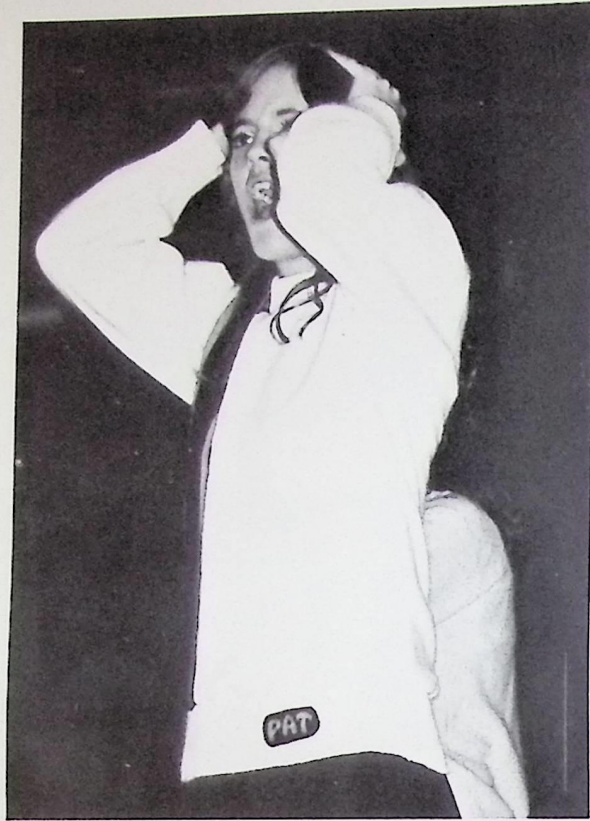

There comes a time in life when just existing isn't enough. We must prove ourselves through our actions. So we strive for perfection in our own special skill. The many hours of practice are all worth it when the applause is earned or the awards are won, but more important than all the praise and awards is the self-satisfaction of accomplishment. When this is achieved life is worth living.

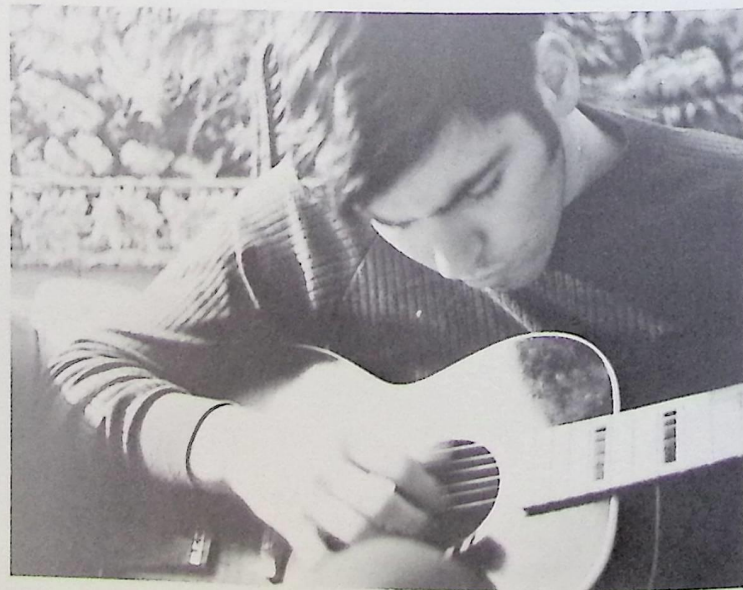

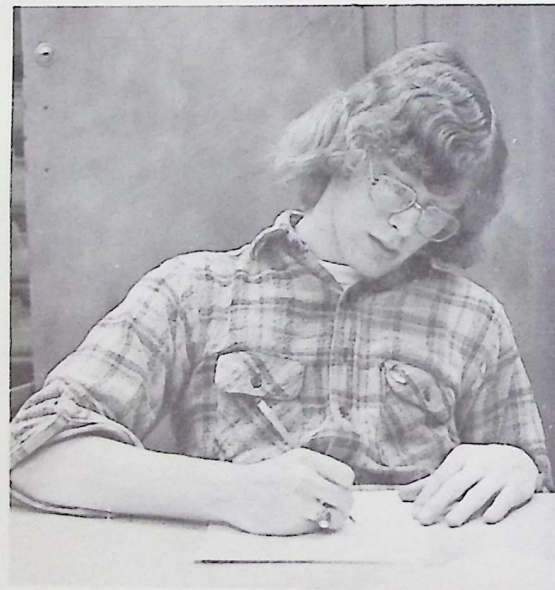

Life is a learning experience. Not one day passes without added meaning and purpose taking on new dimensions. Creativity and imagination play a large role in discovery.

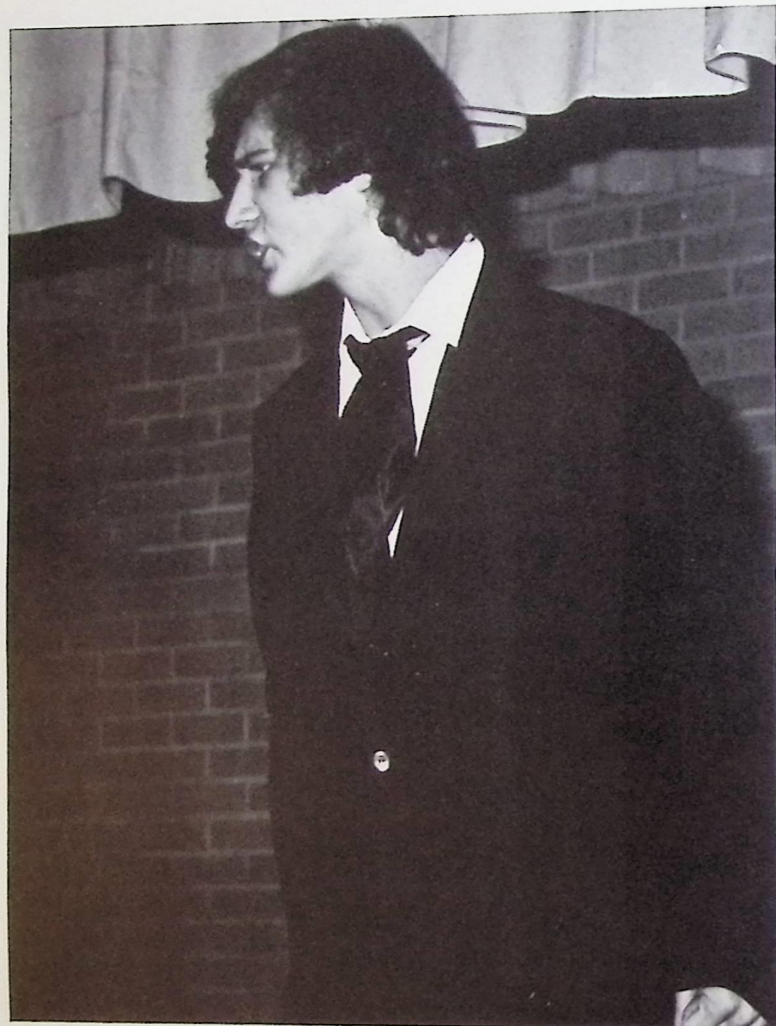

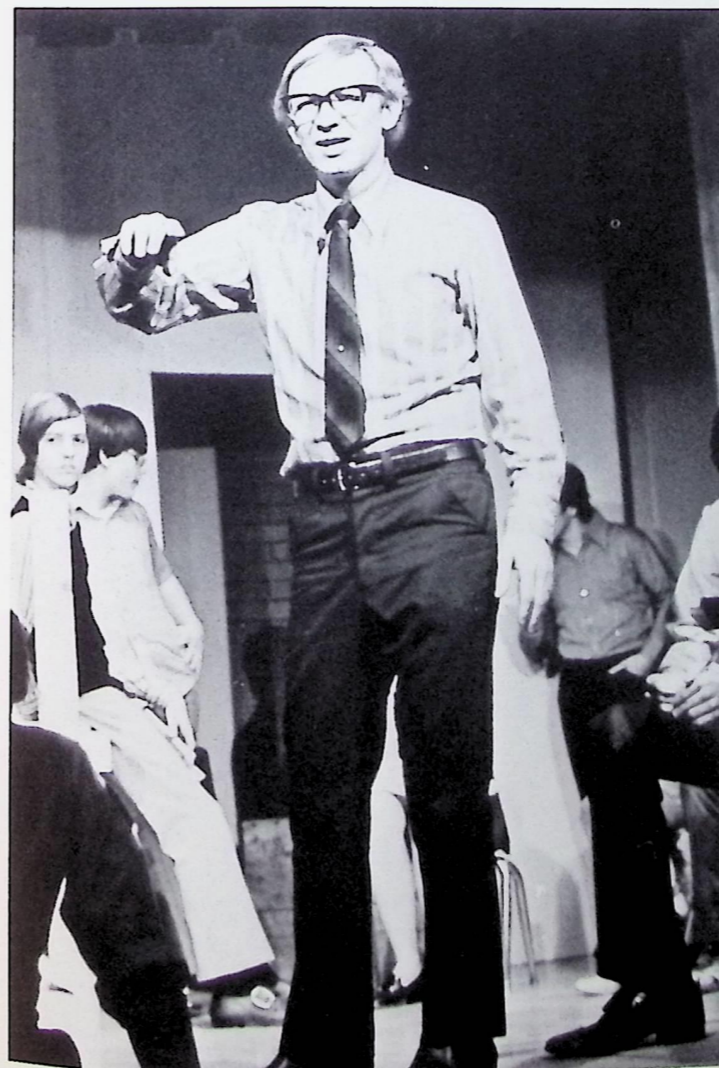

The day begins . . . treadmills turn, emotions and expressions come and go . . . laughing, working, a moment of silence; A clockwork revolving . . . and in its turning, catches scenes in our lives that we may never know again.

Metal, glass, bells and gates cannot restrict discontentment, hopes and dreams. As long as you have yourself . . . you are free.

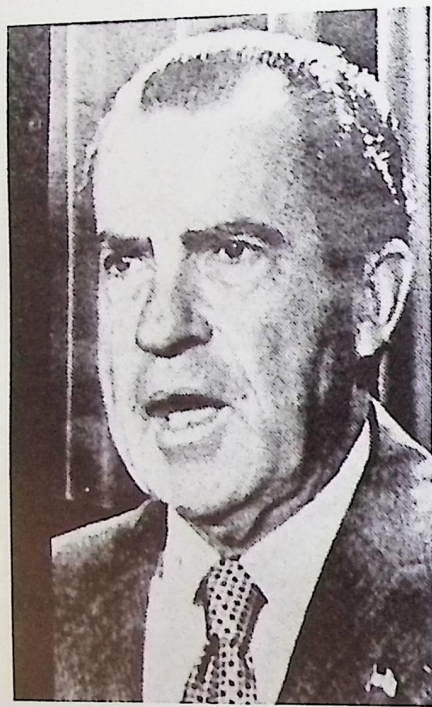

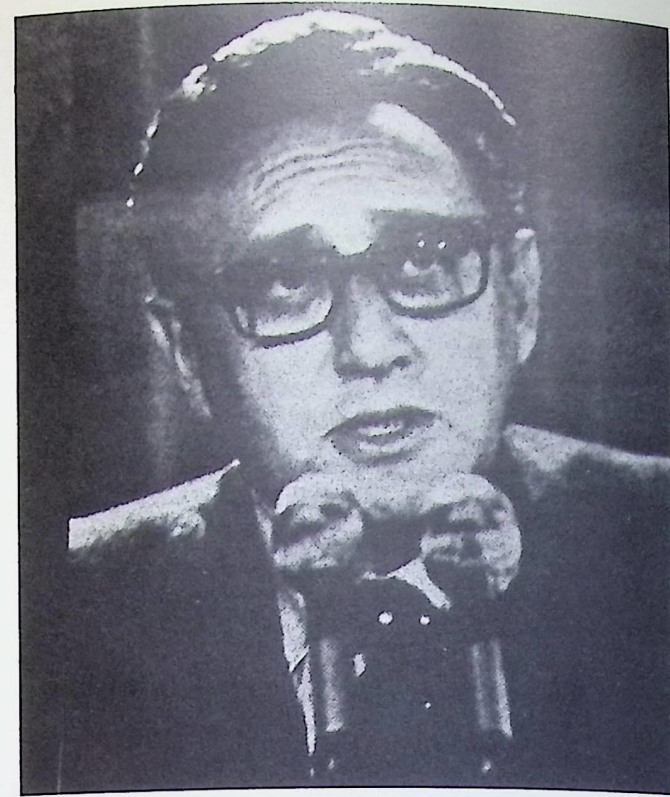

The dust is settling ...
 Warriors are slowly trudging homeward;
 An era of thundering guns and silent fear is passing ...

Yet, smouldering hovels stand in place of homes ...

Human Lives, once so tranquil and secure,
 have been sacrificed in the name of a cause — once clear, now cloudy.

Fragments of peace lay scattered;
 Once again the world withdraws from the precipice of oblivion ...

Dr. David Nutkin

Here is the single chronicle which makes life at North in 1972-73 special for those students who choose to become a part of it. The many photographs in this year's Lens will help to relive what now are only memories.

A sense of change has crept upon us all. This is the theme that is illustrated throughout this volume. We ourselves have grown greatly since the first time we entered North. We have grown not only in size but in character. New friends have come into being and many old relationships have faded away.

The cover of the Lens represents an unveiling unto the world, a sense of stretching upward and growing. Even the contents of the yearbook reflects uniqueness never before represented by the Lens.

Various individuals are to be noted for their efforts in helping to produce this book — Jim Parkinson, our publisher's representative who provided us with much needed technical assistance, Raimor Studios who helped greatly in putting our club section together, and Mr. Cicek for showing us the paths of advertisement. We would also like to thank Miss Tanner, Miss Dolce and Mrs. Wenzlik for their assistance.

Another year has come and gone. Time is something no one can ever change. You never realize how much of it you have already wasted until it is too late. Make use of the facilities you have in school, for they offer many opportunities you may never again be able to experience.

Best Wishes Always
